Union Claims Dairy Contracts

Milk Dumping Ends As State Threatens

By The Associated Press

Contracts boosting milk prices to farmers have been signed with two dairies and a third pact is being negotiated, the National Farmers Organization says.

Ray Nielsen Jr., state NFO dairy representative, said a pact is being negotiated with Otsego Sanitary Products Co. But Nielsen declined to name the two dairies with which the NFO said it has signed agreements.

The NFO also said Tuesday its farmer members will stop dumping milk although the group's withholding of milk from market will continue until prices are boosted.

The NFO, now in the 15th day of its strike in Michigan, claimed support Tuesday from the United Auto Workers Union. Nielsen said the UAW sent a telegram supporting the holdout.

$1 Increase

Nielsen said the contract with the Otsego dairy would give farmers a $1 increase per hundredweight for their milk, which means they will receive about $6.50 for every 46½ quarts or a little more than two cents more per quart. Nielsen said he expects to conclude the negotiations this week when he meets with the dairy's attorney.

He said the same terms were reached with the two unidentified dairies.

The Otsego firm said the contract which would be signed contained certain clauses aimed at protecting the firm.

Nielsen said this meant the NFO would not sign a contract with dairies paying milk prices higher than those originally asked for by the NFO and agreed on by the company.

Face Prosecution

Earlier Tuesday, state officials warned the farmers they may face prosecution if they continue polluting Michigan streams by dumping milk in them.

Chief engineer Ralph Purdy told the State Water Resources Commission he had received many reports from citizens complaining about the milk dumping in streams.

Purdy said such dumping is illegal. Conviction on a charge of polluting a stream could result in a $500 fine.

"There is no way to pinpoint the actual damage," said Purdy. "One tank truck holding about 10,000 gallons, however, could wipe out all the aquatic life in a stream."

Nielsen said the nondumping holding action will be aided by dairies sympathetic to the NFO cause. He said farmers will take their milk to such dairies where it will be manufactured into cheese, butter, powdered milk and other dairy products.

To Manufacture Milk

These products will not be sold, said Nielsen, but will be held by the dairy. The farmer, however, will be able to borrow up to 100 per cent on the value of products made from his milk.

Meanwhile, in Lansing, the State Agriculture Department was swamped by complaints of below-standard bottled milk as the strike wound up its second week.

Dairy Division Chief K. M. VanPatten said he thought many of the complaints were from wives of striking farmers.

"We have checked and found no instances of any intentional violations by dairies," said VanPatten.

B. Dale Ball, director of the state agency, said "milk sampling and testing during the current milk withholding action has shown no indication that milk quality has been reduced.

"Inspectors from the department's dairy division have increased sampling during the milk strike," said Ball. "Despite rumors to the contrary, the butterfat content of milk is at a normal level."

Michigan law requires a minimum 3.5 per cent butterfat content in Grade A milk.

A spokesman for the Michigan Milk Producers Association said Tuesday that the milk strike has not appreciably reduced supplies. He said association deliveries are off by 4.5 per cent.

The Association is a cooperative whose 8,500 members supply about 90 per cent of the state's raw milk.

Prexy Expert On Labor Law

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Robben Fleming, newly named president of the University of Michigan, has demonstrated that he can firmly demand respect for a university's decrees and still sympathize with objectors.

He did it this spring as chancellor of the University of Wisconsin.

Fleming warned that he would summon outside force if campus and city police failed to stop student demonstrators from interfering with free speech at the university.

But then, when a number of students were arrested after virtually barricading Fleming in an office, he put up $1,470 with a personal check to bail 17 of them out of jail.

Fleming, 50, an expert on labor affairs, turned down the presidency of the University of Minnesota to take the Michigan post. His salary is reported in the range of $50,000 a year.

The U-M Board of Regents made him their unanimous choice.

Harland Hatcher, 69, is due to step out of the office of U-M president at the end of the year. Fleming will become president-designate on Sept. 1.

"I shall do my best to be worthy of its traditions," Fleming said of his job at the U-M.

Fleming's first visit to the U-M campus as president-designate will be on Friday when he will meet with school officials and regents and hold a news conference.

The author of five books and co-author of two others, Fleming was chairman of the presidential board which worked toward a settlement of the 1162 dockworkers strike on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

He also is a member of the United Auto Workers Public Review Board and the Atomic Energy Labor-Management Relations Panel.

Resume

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — More than a million middle Tennesseeans are waiting a resumption of milk deliveries after an agreement Tuesday night to end picketing at processing plants.

The accord is expected to end by Thursday a milk drought that is in its sixth day.

The National Farmers Organization Inc., the marketing agency which channels milk to processors, agreed to the settlement after six hours of negotiations.

However, the agreement does not end the farmers' milk withholding action or guarantee them the price increases they demanded.

Defense Dept. Denies LBJ Had No A-Briefing

NEW YORK (AP) — The Defense Department denies statements in William Manchester's book that President Johnson had not been advised on procedures for ordering nuclear retaliation in the event of an attack following the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Security officials in the Kennedy administration also denied that Johnson had not been briefed. The U.S. atomic attack code was carried in a football-shaped satchel that lay in the presidential jet which took Johnson and the body of Kennedy back to Washington from Dallas Nov. 22, 1963.

Kennedy officials said that at the late president's insistence Johnson had been familiarized thoroughly on the contents of the satchel.

Book Quoted

Manchester says in the book, "The Death of a President":

"The difficulty was that Johnson had no idea of what was in the bag. He knew that it existed, but he hadn't been briefed about the contents, and if the thunderbolt of all-out war struck that afternoon, the country's retaliatory arsenal could be spiked until he had been led through Taz Shepard's primers for the first time."

Capt. Tazewell Shepard was a military aide to President Kennedy.

Manchester also writes::

"Had Russia attacked across the DEW line, the greatest military establishment in the history of the world might easily have been musclebound during the 15 fateful minutes of warning time and perhaps even afterward, when second-strike capacity became a factor."

Not So

A spokesman for the Defense Department issued a statement Tuesday saying:

"The statements carried by the press services attributed to William Manchester bearing on the nuclear readiness of the United States on Nov. 22, 1963, were untrue.

"On that date, Lyndon Johnson, as vice president and as president, was fully aware of the procedures used to authorize the release of nuclear weapons in retaliation against attack on the United States."

The Defense Department also took issue with a passage in the book which says that fears of an international plot to overthrow the United States government prompted Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to alert every American military base around the world the moment he heard Kennedy had been shot in Dallas.

"By every readable signal, the situation was very red," Manchester says.

On this passage the Defense Department said:

"The Joint Staff did not order any change in the state of alert of the armed forces following the assassination of President Kennedy. However, the Joint Staff did send a message to the commands informing them of the assassination and cautioning that they should be especially on the alert. Routine posture remained in effect."

Supervisors Keep Stations On The Air

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Federation of Television and Radio Artists struck the major television and radio networks today, but supervisory personnel kept the networks on the air by taking over such programs as news shows.

In the first national strike in AFTRA's 30-year history, picket lines went up shortly after 5 a.m. in front of the Columbia Broadcasting System, the National Broadcasting Co., the American Broadcasting Co., and the Mutual Broadcasting System, their affiliates in New York, in Chicago and in Los Angeles, and at advertising agencies.

Cities In Dispute

The dispute centers around newsmen at network-owned stations in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles who are seeking a higher base salary and a larger return of commercial fees on sponsored programs on which they appear.

Two of the first big news shows to be affected by the strike were the NBC Today show from 7 a.m. till 9 a.m. and the CBS morning news with Joseph Benti from 7:05 a.m. till 7:30 a.m. In both cases, supervisory personnel took over the shows.

Hugh Downs, host of NBC's Today show, joined pickets in front of the West 49th Street entrance to the RCA Building in a heavy predawn rain.

Supervisors Announce

"I came down to picket in a car NBC pays for," Downs quipped.

The news portions of the Today show were done by supervisory personnel while filmed portions were reruns of previous shows.

Some shows expected to be affected were General Hospital and some music variety shows done before live audiences such as Dean Martin, Danny Kaye, Red Skelton and Smothers Brothers.

While the strike by the 18,000-member AFTRA primarily centers around newsmen, actors, singers, dancers and announcers are also involved.

AFTRA has 700 members in the Chicago local, but only 350 to 400 are working at stations owned by ABC, NBC and CBS are striking.

Commercials Affected

The principal issue involves 100 newsmen at network-owned stations in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles. The newsmen are seeking a $325 weekly base wage guarantee plus a percentage of commercial fees on sponsored programs on which they appear.

Under AFTRA's proposal, the newsmen and stations would split the first $650 in commercial fees, giving the newsmen their $325 basic wage guarantee. Any fees over this would be kept entirely by the newsmen, under the AFTRA's demands.

Spokesmen for the networks said that most filmed and taped programs would go on as scheduled.

Supervisory personnel planned to take over news programs, including the networks' evening shows with Walter Cronkite, Chet Huntley and David Brinkley and Peter Jennings.

Plans were made to replace the soap operas with repeats of situation comedy series and other programs.

Programs taped after Nov. 18 may not be used as substitutes for live programs under an earlier agreement reached between AFTRA and the networks.

Negotiations between the net-

Effect

In Escanaba today WLST said the regular announcers on its network shows were missing, but that the shows came through with supervisors who are not members of the AFTRA substituting for them. Some of the shows, like Don McNeill's Breakfast Club, were pretaped and they had the familiar stars. The same situation prevailed with WDBC.

It Depends On Tax Increase But

State Employes To Get Pay Increases

LANSING (AP)—The House of Representatives cleared the way Tuesday for a $21.5 million pay and fringe increase for 39,000 state employes despite warnings the money may not be available when the time comes to pay it.

Defeated 28-73 was a resolution which would have vetoed the pay increase recommended by the Civil Service Commission.

A two-thirds vote was needed to pass the measure. Coincidentally two-thirds of the members voted against it.

"This resolution is dead," Rep. J. Bob Traxler, D-Bay City, said before the vote. "It was dead the day it was introduced and it's dead today. We're just wasting time."

But the debate went on for over an hour, while foes of the pay increase noted the Legislature can later refuse to appropriate the $21.5 million to cover the pay hikes.

If it does, they warned, the state will have to cut the number of its civil service employes in order to pay those remaining the new, higher rates.

It will depend, they said, on whether lawmakers are willing to accept new revenue sources—such as the state income tax proposed by Gov. George Romney.

Under the constitution, the rate boost recommended by the commission takes effect July 1 unless rejected by two-thirds majorities in both houses of the Legislature. The deadline for rejecting it was Monday.

The civil service pay package involves an $18 million pay increase for fiscal 1967-68 and new fringe benefits worth an estimated $3.5 million.

5 To 9 Per cent

The commission said the wage increases generally range between 5 and 9 per cent and average about 7 per cent.

Clerical and administrative classifications would get a 5 to 8 per cent increase; labor and trades classes 6.5 to 8 per cent; institution service classes 6.5 to 9.6 per cent; social welfare classes 6.4 to 8.1 per cent; and doctors, psychiatrists and engineers 5 to 6 per cent.

The largest percentage increases, ranging from 14 to 16 per cent, will go to some classes of systems analysts, elevator and boiler inspectors, highway drill core operators, prison industry workers, disability examiners and vocational rehabilitation workers.

The commission estimated that 23,000 low-level employes would share $8.8 million of the $18 million pay increase; 15,000 medium-pay employes would divide another $8.4 million; and the remaining $1 million would go to 997 top-grade employes.

The commission said its proposal would increase the median state pay rate from $6,040 a year to $6,452.

World Alert At JFK Death

Reiman Morin, of the Associated Press, writes of William Manchester's book, "The Death of a President," that it reports that Defense Secretary McNamara alerted U.S. military bases around the world when he got first news that President Kennedy had been assassinated in Dallas.

"By every readable signal, the situation was very red," wrote Manchester in his reconstruction of the assassination. McNamara, he wrote "kept his head and made all the right moves."

The controversial book is out at last. It's reviewed on Page 8 of today's press.

The fighters attacked the wreck and the huge oil slick around it for the second day in another attempt to check the oil flood ruining the vacation beaches of southwest England and bringing death to birds and marine life in the area.

Royal Navy bombers scored more than 40 hits on and around the wreckage Tuesday, but the fire went out with the rising tide after 4½ hours.

Democrats Move Toward Income Tax

LANSING (AP) — The fiscal reform picture remained confused in the Senate today, but some Democrats appeared to be flirting with the idea of negotiating with Republicans on Gov. George Romney's fiscal reform program.

The Senate, which began debate on Romney's income tax bill Monday, had been scheduled to receive a detailed description of the bill Tuesday.

But the senators never got around to discussing tax reform.

Contrary to impressions given earlier by some Republicans that tax reform would supercede any other business, the Senate considered 17 other bills on the calendar, passing 10.

Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, Rep.-St. Louis, told newsmen after the session that some Democrats had indicated at a luncheon meeting involving key legislators and Wayne County officials that "they would support fiscal reform with certain changes."

Called Hasty

Lockwood declined to name the Democrats or to speculate whether tax reform would be taken up today.

Democrats have criticized Romney's eight tax reform bills as inequitable and inadequate and have charged that Republicans have given them too little time to discuss the bills, reported out of committee Friday.

However, Sen. John McCauley, one of two Democrats on the Republican-dominated Senate Taxation Committee, said Democrats have "seven or eight amendments coming down" from the Legislative Service Bureau.

Wayne County officials, led by Auditor Richard Austin, told legislators that some provisions should be made in the budget for hard-pressed counties, with Austin suggesting a "piggyback income tax" on top of the state income tax.

County Income Tax

"They proposed allowing counties to have a county income tax and repeal the city income tax with a portion of the county tax going to the cities," Lockwood said.

He said one variation of this plan could allow Wayne County to give one per cent to the city of Detroit, one half per cent to schools and keep one-half per cent for itself.

Lockwood said Austin was asked to have amendments drawn up which would provide for a county tax.

"I think there was at least one legislator there who said if the problems of Wayne County were met, he would support fiscal reform," Lockwood said.

McCauley told Lockwood his party would need one more week to discuss fiscal reform. However, the Republican leader replied that he felt GOP senators would "prefer getting into it prior to one week."

"They are showing an interest in negotiating," Lockwood said, "Particularly those with the Wayne County-Detroit problem."

The majority leader said he felt there possibly would be some Republican support for an effort "to take care of the problems of the counties," and possibly some support for easing the tax burden on individuals.

"The Democrats have contended often and long that the individual burden is too great in comparison to the corporations' burden," Lockwood said.

Romney's package proposes a 2½ per cent income tax on personal income, 5 per cent on corporations and 8 per cent on financial institutions.

"The Democrats are always willing to negotiate," McCauley said. "If they're (Republicans) serious in their feelings about true fiscal reform, we are too."

Senate Taxation Committee Chairman Harry DeMaso, R-Battle Creek, told newsmen he knew of amendments to be offered by both sides, adding:

"I think things look better. Anytime they start offering amendments, things look better."

DeMaso said he thought a Friday vote on tax reform was possible — "or it could run into next week."

"It depends a great deal on how many amendments are offered and how fast we move," he added. "I don't think it should be rushed."

Public Management, Labor In New Roles

By CLINT DUNATHAN

Employes of cities and counties in Michigan — and their employers — are learning they must take new roles in the drama called employer-employe relations.

The old casual squabbles over wages and working conditions will be replaced by strict "letter of the law" labor contract interpretation in the years ahead — thanks to Public Act 379.

At least for a time, no one is likely to be happy with the working of public Act 379, which was adopted by the Michigan Legislature to permit public employes to join unions and be represented by unions for purposes of labor negotiation.

This was indicated at a workshop for personnel managers and directors held in Escanaba Tuesday, and attended by about 30 representatives of cities and county road commissions of the Upper Peninsula.

Strike Question

University of Michigan extension service sponsored the workshop conducted by Dr. Charles M. Rehmus, U. of M. professor of political science and director of the Institute of Labor and Industrial Relations. He was formerly labor relations advisor to the Secretary of Commerce, was on the staff of the Secretary of Labor, was a commissioner of the Federal Mediation Service, and is widely consulted on employer-employe problems in both the private and public sector.

Public employe unionism is already launched on a rough path in Michigan, and the situation could get worse before both sides (labor and management) learn their responsibilities and practice them in the way it is done in the field of private employment, it was made clear at the meeting.

There are some tricky and some very serious problems involved, including those revolving around the possibility of strikes. Act 379 says that strikes are prohibited — but teachers in Lower Michigan have already violated this provision with impunity.

Hearing April 4

Very tricky indeed is the question of whether it is legal for teachers as a group to refuse to sign contracts and show up for the opening of school it was brought out in the discussion. Clearly, however, it is considered a strike when teachers walk out during the school year.

And what about the situation in which cities find their law enforcement officers represented by labor organizations? Act 379 says police may be so represented for bargaining purposes with their employer.

The city of Escanaba is contesting this by refusing to recognize the Teamster Union as the bargaining agent for its officers, and the Teamsters charge the city is thereby engaged in unfair labor practices. A hearing on the unfair labor question is scheduled by the Michigan Labor Mediation Board in Escanaba on April 4 at the Court House.

The City of Escanaba hopes for a solution to the problem in the courts. Its position is that police represented by a union creates a conflict of interest that is harmful to the public interest. It also says that its four sergeants are "command officers" who should not be in union ranks.

'Divided Loyalty'

Discussions on the subject at the Tuesday workshop in Escanaba indicated that the cities (following Escanaba's lead) may subscribe to the recommendation of the Advisory Committee on Public Employe Relations, headed by Russell Smith, professor of law at the University of Michigan.

The Committee reporting to Gov. Romney on Feb. 15, 1967, recommended there should be a provision prohibiting representation of police officers (inluding combined firemen and police officers) by any labor organization other than an association of officers.

This seems to be necessary in the public interest, said the report, and to avoid conflict of interest or "divided loyalty situations."

Aside from these questions, which must be answered in courts of law or in the Legislature, the public administrators in their workshop began struggling with a whole new vocabulary of labor relations and definition: Open shop, union shop, agency shop, closed shop, check off.

There were questions on procedures dealing with grievances, the keeping of performance appraisals, and whether union business may be conducted on official working time.

To The Letter

Management has the right and the responsibility to act — to manage — and this is in no way weakened by a labor contract unless management chooses to give up some of its decision-making powers, the city and county administrators were told.

Likewise, unions have the right to appeal if they feel aggrieved.

Out of this situation there is expected to come increased strain for a time — followed by understanding and the practice of procedures that are spelled out in the labor contract.

Dr. Rehmus stressed that public labor supervisors should be trained toward uniform administration of the contract they have entered into with their employes. There should be enforcement "to the letter of the contract," he emphasized.

Attending the workshop were representatives of public agencies from Ironwood, Iron Mountain, Kingsford, Norway, Manistique, Newberry, Negaunee, Sault Ste. Marie, Ontonagon, Houghton, Hancock, Laurium and Escanaba.

The meeting was arranged by Charles Follo, assistant director, University of Michigan extension service.

Income Tax Take Boosted

LANSING (AP)—Revised estimates show Gov. George Romney's proposed income tax would raise $53 million more in its first year of operation than original estimates indicated, Budget Director Glenn Allen said today.

Allen said revised estimates show the tax package would gain $308 million in additional revenue in its first year (1967-68) compared with an original estimate of $255 million.

In addition, full year implementation of the tax would result in $307 million in additional revenue for the state compared with the Budget Bureau's original estimate of $235 million, Allen said.

Allen said that assuming appropriations of $1.15 billion as recommended by Romney, the bureau now estimates the state's net surplus would be increased from $72.7 million to $125.7 million on June 30, 1968, the end of the fiscal year.

Chicago Hunts Girl Abductor

CHICAGO (AP) — More than 100 police and 30 FBI agents are on one of the city's biggest manhunts in years for the kidnapper of an 8-year-old daughter of an unemployed migrant from Loebel, Ky.

Black-haired Carrie Stephens, one of four children of Daniel Stephens, 41, and his wife Alice, 30, disappeared Monday night with a man who said he needed help in finding his dog.

He appeared while Carrie and five playmates were in front of the Stephens' home in the uptown district, densely populated by migrants from rural sections of other states. He offered a dollar to any who could find his missing dog.

Three boys looked in one direction while Carrie and two girls went with the stranger in another. The girls told police the man finally grasped Carrie's arm and led her away.

works and the union broke off Tuesday night. They had resumed Tuesday for the first time since March 8.

The principal issue involves 600 newsmen at network-owned stations in New York, Chicago and Los Angeles. The newsmen are seeking a $325 base salary and a 50 per cent return of all commercial fees on sponsored programs on which they appear.

Retain Fees

AFTRA would permit the stations to recapture 50 per cent of all commercial fees on news programs until the amount of all fees equaled the worker's basic salary. After that, the newsmen would retain the entire fee.

Previously, newsmen on network-owned stations have negotiated contracts on an individual basis. Salaries range from $225 to $350 a week, but some newsmen have earned as much as $800 a week with commercial fees.

The newsmen also have charged that they are not compensated for overtime work.

$300 Minimum

The networks had offered the newsmen $300 a week minimum with a $75 a day guarantee for sixth and seventh days worked. The networks also offered to allow newsmen to keep 13 per cent of their commercial fees for the first 18 months of a three-year contract and 25 per cent of the fees for the second 18 months.

All increases would be retroactive to Nov. 15, 1966, when the old contract expired.

The local newsmen are seeking the same provisions on commercial fees that the networks granted to network newsmen last January.

Other issues unresolved include commercial assignments for staff announcers and the question of automation on network-owned FM stations.

College To Request Additional Millage

By DAVE ANDREWS

The Board of Trustees of Bay de Noc Community College will go to the people of Delta County within three months to request additional millage for operating the college and to finance local share of a proposed building program at its new site.

Form of the proposal or proposals is expected to be decided at a special meeting of the Board at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, April 5.

The board indicated, however, in discussions of budget and building costs at a special meeting Tuesday night, that the total request probably will be between one and two mills.

With this, the college would be able to meet increased operating expenses and also issue general obligation bonds to finance new construction

Dr. Richard Rinehart, president of the college, emphasized the need to complete proposals for a county-wide vote as soon as possible.

Building Needed

Rinehart said the college needs a new Vocational Education building ready for occupancy by the fall of 1968 to meet its growing enrollment and program requirements. To complete construction by then, he said, bids would have to be let this fall.

Estimated cost of the first building is about $500,000. Of this, the state is expected to approve matching funds on a 50-50 basis, making cost to Delta County taxpayers on the building about $250,000. A second building, again estimated at about $500,000, is under consideration for 1969-70 useage.

If the Board sets its proposal or proposals next Wednesday, earliest voting date possible would be in the first week of June because of a 60-day filing period required by law. Legal procedures in issuing and selling bonds, including approval by the Municipal Finance Commission, would push actual date for letting bids into August or September.

Single Proposal?

Robert Thrun, Lansing, bonding attorney with the firm of Miller & Canfield, recommended that the board put requests for operating millage and capital outlay to the people in a single proposal, asking a specified millage for "any and all purposes."

The Board would then have the discretion to use funds raised to retire general obligation bonds issued in the amount of the building needs and to meet operational costs. There would be no time limit on the proposal.

It would also be possible, he said, for the Board to separate the proposals, specifying on one question a millage for operation and on a second question a dollar amount for bonding.

The millage increase proposed will be the first requested by the college since one mill was voted for operation with establishment of the college in 1962.

Millage Over Tuition

The Board indicated Tuesday that it felt a millage increase is preferred over a general increase in tuition for its students, although an increase could still be forthcoming should state aid fail to meet expectations. Students from Delta County now pay $6 per credit, per semester. Out of district students pay $8 per credit, per semester.

Operating budget proposals for 1967-68 show general expenditures of about $401,381. Costs would be met with combined, local, state, and federal funds, plus tuition.

The proposed budget represents an increase of about $31,000 from the $370,000 budget for this year, but Rinehart pointed out that the net increase is deceptively small.

New Teachers Included

He said this year, for example, the college is paying about $39,000 in wages to student employes working in the library and in custodial duties under a federal program, which is included in the general budget. The proposed budget trims that figure to about $12,000 as the program phazes out.

With that difference of $27,000 and the net difference of $31,000, a more realistic increase of $58,000 is reflected, Rinehart said.

The proposed budget includes provisions for three new faculty positions—teachers in English, social science, and drafting—plus administrative positions of Academic Dean and another counsellor. It also includes a $500 across the board increase in faculty salaries approved by the Board.

Rinehart said the $401,000 figure does not include capital outlay figures or self-supporting programs.

Accident Notice Bill Introduced

LANSING (AP) — A bill requiring motorists to surrender all out-of-state driver licenses whenapplying for a Michigan license passed the Senate Tuesday.

It was one of five motor vehicle measures given unanimous approval.

Senators approved and gave immediate effect to a bill passed by the House, which would require drivers to surrender all licenses from other jurisdictions when obtaining a Michigan license.

The measure is designed to eliminate the possibility that Michigan drivers whose licenses have been suspended could drive illegally on a license from another state.

Another measure would require the driver of any vehicle colliding with another vehicle to stop and notify the operator or owner of the other vehicle, or police, of his name and address.

Also passed was a bill removing the requirement that chauffeur's license applications contain the applicant's thumbprint and forbidding the use of an altered drivers license with unlawful intent.

The altered license measure is aimed at minors who change drivers licenses in order to obtain alcoholic beverages, the bill's backers said.

Another bill would allow chauffeur's licenses to expire on the licensee's birthday and permit renewal three months prior to expiration.

The Senate also approved unanimously a bill sponsored by Sen. Thomas Schweigert, R-Petoskey, to establish an experimental game management area on Beaver Island and Little Beaver Island in northern Lake Michigan.

Schweigert said the isolated location of the islands will allow game management authorities to maintain strict control over experimental situations.

Also approved unanimously was a bill sponsored by Sen. Arthur Cartwright, D - Detroit, adding suckers, mullet, carp, dogfish and garpike to the list of fish which may be taken with a hand net.

Currently only smelt may be taken in such a manner.

Beaten

ZEELAND (AP)—Voters turned down a proposed increase in school operating millage Tuesday. The issue to raise 5 mills for 3-years was defeated 442-277.

Where Need Is

A businessman who earns his living in the Upper Peninsula and travels it a good deal suggests that this newspaper comment on what he regards as a dislocation of good sense in the State Highway Department's dealing with state highway needs in the Upper Peninsula.

He noted that in the recent opening of bids in Escanaba on Highway Department construction contracts that Payne & Dolan of Milwaukee were low bidder at $94,847 on 6.1 miles of skidproofing on U. S. 2 from Rapid River east to Ensign. And at the same bid opening a joint bid of the Proksch and Bacco companies in the amount of $1,019,482 was low on 1.4 miles of widening and resurfacing on I-75 for a business spur from M-129 north to Adams St. in Sault St. Marie.

The question raised here is not the propriety of the business spur at the Sault, but the relative neglect of the road from Rapid River east. This is one of the most heavily-traveled pieces of highway in the Upper Peninsula, on the main east-west artery at its crossroad with the main north-south artery. As all persons who have driven over it know, it is not only deteriorated and poor, it is downright dangerous.

And yet the State Highway Department is giving this highway, which so much needs reconstruction, a quick slick patch job while it spends more than a million dollars of state and federal highway funds on an auxiliary road at the Sault. It is the kind of public planning which makes citizens wonder about the quality of administration of public funds in this field.

There can be no explanation of why this must be, of course. It will be explained forever and ever how the two projects are not comparable, because I-75 is a federal highway in the Interstate Highway System, and U. S. 2 is in another category, and must wait its turn. We hope that the public will be as unimpressed with any such explanation as we are. They're both federal highways and U. S. 2 should have been in the Interstate Highway System and probably would have been were it not for fossilization of the State Highway Department leadership at the time the Interstate was being laid out.

That the Interstate can progress to spur road refinements before U. S. 2 can achieve even safety indicates that the federal-state teamwork in highway planning for the Upper Peninsula is unable to identify needs as they exist today, or that it cannot proceed to proper remedy under the existing format of planning and construction.

Look at the bidding of today's hand. You may wonder about West's raise to two hearts and North's jump to four spades. You will probably decide that West and North just liked to bid. You will agree with East's bids of five and six hearts and will feel that South was quite conservative when he only bid five spades and was fully justified in going on to six.

You will wonder about East's double of six spades and West's diamond lead that gives East the ruff to beat the contract. Is West clairvoyant or do East and West have signals?

The answer is that East and West were using a standard convention that has been in use more than 30 years.

This convention is the Lightner slam double named after its inventor, Theodore A. Lightner of New York. The theory is that there are many times when you want your partner to make an unusual lead against an opponent's slam bid and few times when you expect to beat the slam on simple defense. Hence, the Lightner convention is that when your opponents have bid a slam that they obviously expect to make, a double calls for an unusual lead.

In this case the unusual lead is clearly a diamond. A club lead would also be unusual but East could have invited a club by bidding clubs at some stage. Therefore West knows that his partner can take the first diamond trick. He leads the diamond. East ruffs and lays down the ace of hearts.

This particular slam double was rather dangerous. East was sure of the first trick but he had to worry about his heart trick. North and South did not have many hearts between them. However, East wanted a profit and he decided that if either opponent was void of hearts they might have gone to a grand slam.

YOUTH CORPS

I am writing with reference to an article concerning the Neighborhood Youth Corps which appeared in the Press on March 18.

In an insert entitled "Dissent" you relate that certain unnamed high school administrators complain that the program is fostering school dropouts. I feel that perhaps a brief explanation of the program will clarify what may have been a misunderstanding.

The Neighborhood Youth Corps program in the Upper Peninsula is a cooperative effort between the prime contractor, UPCAP, and its delegate agency, Northern Michigan University, who directly administers the program, and the six local Community Action Agencies.

The NYC program as conducted in the U. P. is actually a two fold one. The "in-school" program is geared to assisting youth from disadvantaged families to continue their education while receiving a meaningful work experience. They are selected with the advice of the school counseling staffs. They may work a total of 15 hours per week and receive the rate of $1.25 per hour.

The "out-of-school" program is designed to serve the high school dropouts from disadvantaged families between the ages of 16-21. This is the phase of the program that I assume is being criticized. The basic emphasis in this phase of the program is to encourage the participating youth to return to school or where this is not feasible to encourage the youth to obtain a saleable skill in other training situations or to become gainfully employed.

These "out - of - school" youngsters can work up to 32 hours per week. Like the 'in-school" participants in the program they also earn $1.25 per hour. Work sites include a variety of non-profit public and private agencies.

Neighborhood Youth Corps regulations prevent the enrollment of youth who have been out of school less than six months of the school year except in highly unusual circumstances. The experience with the "out-of-school" program to date though, will indicate that the currently enrolled boys and girls have been out of school at the time of their enrollment an average of 16 months. This can hardly be construed as a "raid" on high schools. An analysis of the pertinent data of the 85 youth who have been in the program will also show that their average age is 17.7, that they have completed an average of 9.4 grades in school, and that they came from families that average 7 persons and whose families income averages $2,804 annually.

I can only hope that these figures will clarify what must have been a misunderstanding. The success of the program to date can be, I think, attributed in large measure to the cooperation of the school administrators who have given generously of their counsel. In selecting Northern Michigan University to administer the program we feel we chose an institution whose job training experience and philosophy of "the right to try" will insure that in all instances the boys and girls who enter this program will have received the best of supervision and training.

Harold L. Dettman
Chairman of UPCAP

Editor's note: Some educators who have commented on the issue are unrepentent in their declaration that, although an effort like the Neighborhood Job Corps or Youth Corps may be desirable as an instrument for the salvage of school dropouts from the welfare class of unskilled workers, it unfortunately can set up competitions with the schools for students.

They suggest: When a government grant for training youth is made, it tends to become a quota, and active recruiting is apt to result to fill it if there's not enough natural response.

When a youth isn't hankering bad to finish high school it's a temptation to be told he can drop out and be paid for attending a job training class. And that this subsidy will set him up for other benefits like payment of his moving bills for transfer to another job site, etc. No such largesse for the graduate.

GOP Can't Swing Tax Decision Alone

By RICHARD L. MILLIMAN
Of Panax Newspapers

LANSING — The tax reform pot is about to boil in earnest in Lansing legislative halls.

The fundamental question is whether Michigan is finally to get a personal income tax. All else in the tax reform picture is subordinate.

This is not to say that nothing else is important except the income tax. Vital to the picture is the level of support for education throughout the state — how much money schools receive from the state, and how much money will have to be raised locally by property taxes.

Also quite vital is how much money will state employes and local teachers be receiving for their efforts.

★ ★ ★

Gov. Romney has vowed that Michigan will not spend more money for state services — and state-supported local services — than the state takes in.

He has laid down a somber ultimatum—either more money from state taxes or less services.

That's a tough choice for any elected official to make. Romney made his choice by recommending more taxes. In California, Gov. Ronald Regan not only recommended more taxes, but also firing 3,000 state employees, so that his recommended tax levels would not have to go any higher.

Now, each elected member of the Legislature must make the same choice — either more taxes, or fewer services.

★ ★ ★

Some legislators, however, will choose neither course, but instead maintain that taxes should not be raised, but that services should not be cut either.

Romney holds the whip hand here, however, with his veto power. He has promised to veto appropriation bills unless there is money to cover them.

If tax reform should fail, it would put the Governor and his backers in an especially tough spot. First, they will have proposed politically unpopular higher taxes, and then proposed politically unpopular cuts in services.

That's why everything possible will be done to raise more money. Nobody wants to go through the barbed wire twice.

★ ★ ★

In the entire controversy over the tax program, it would be well to remember that everyone on the scene in Lansing, in one degree or another, is a political animal.

Politics is important, because that's the route each traveled to achieve public office. And political decisions will be made to influence the eventual fate of the tax proposals.

Much of what is said and done will be for positioning of the individual office holder or his party.

★ ★ ★

Democrats in the senate, for example, already have claimed they haven't had time to study the Romney tax program in depth. "Railroad" and "ramrod" are two cries that went up when the Senate Tax Committee sent the bills to the floor late last week. Such charges have more political than actual merit. Senate Democrats now have placed on the record one reason to oppose the program.

House Republicans, at almost the same time, went on record as favoring a higher income tax rate — 3 percent instead of 2½ percent — with more money scheduled for schools, and higher property tax rebates. Schools and property tax levels have been two of the sorest points in the entire tax picture, and now House Republicans have done something to salve those who cry in anguish. They have recommended oil where the wheel creaks.

Another important point to remember in analyzing legislative happening is that each of the members in the House and Senate is an individual, and each has an individual constituency.

Each has been sent to the Legislature by voters in his district, and each has a responsibility to those voters — to do what is good for them. Some legislators feel this responsibility more keenly than others, of course; and some feel that what is good for voters is what the voters want, while others feel that they are sent to the capitol to decide what is good for voters, regardless of what the legislator hears from a handful of his constituents.

Some legislators will listen to a whisper from his district and hear it as a roar; others feel that the voters are not concerned, and will make their feeling known at the next election.

Some legislators put their party first, either Republican or Democratic, and fit their actions to their party's desires. Others subordinate party platform positions and caucus deliberations to their individual reading of what is good for the people.

Some legislators feel that their district comes first, and they couldn't care less what the result of their actions might be in some remote (to them) part of the state; others feel the statewide burden very heavily, and decide issues on the basis of what they feel is their statewide responsibility without regard to the effect in his individual district.

All of these varying approaches to holding public office come into focus when an issue as fundamental and as vital as higher taxes reaches decision stage.

★ ★ ★

A final point to mull in viewing the upcoming decision-making process is that whatever course the Legislature takes will require at least minimum support from members of both parties.

Theoretically, Republicans could inflict their will on taxes. The Republicans hold a 20-18 edge in the Senate, and 55-54 edge in the House.

But practically speaking, it is next to impossible to line up every Republican vote for such soul-wrenching decisions as installing a personal income tax or a 15 per cent cutback in state services, just as it was impossible to line up every Democratic vote for basic tax reform in the last two years.

★ ★ ★

Consequently, for a personal income tax to be adopted, at least a handful of Democrats will have to join hands with majority Republicans to compensate for those Republicans who are steadfast in their opposition.

Get Female Doctor And Psychiatrist

Dear Ann Landers: A most unusual thing occurred recently at the Beverly Hilton Hotel in Los Angeles. I believe it will interest you. A woman drove up in front of the hotel and left a box with the doorman. The note pasted to the box read as follows:

"Dear Sir: Here are the items my son took from the Acapulco Hilton. An embarrassed Mother."

Clipped to her note was a copy of your column which dealt with stealing from hotels under the guise of "souvenir collecting."

The contents of the box contained the following items which would have an approximate value of $300 to $400:

2 silver wine coolers
6 silver finger bowls
1 14-inch silver service tray
3 bread and butter knives
3 dinner forks
3 forks
3 teaspoons
2 soup spoons
1 ice tong
4 drinking glasses
2 face towels
2 bath towels

As a past president of the California State Hotel and Motel Association, I'm sure I speak for all hotel and motel managers when I say thank you, Ann Landers, for your help. The problem of hotel pilfering is reaching incredible proportions and running into millions of dollars annually.

The fact that at least one young man was influenced by your comments to the extent that he returned the stolen articles, is evidence that some people do listen to you. We are most grateful for your support.—Robert A. Groves, General Manager, Beverly Hilton

Dear Mr. Groves: Thank you for your letter. When I was a guest at another well-known Beverly Hills hotel in December, someone stole my diamond earrings. If his mother would return them to the doorman my day would be complete.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 19-year-old girl who has a problem I have never heard of before. I'll bet you have never heard of it either.

I have been looking for a job for six months. Almost every job that interests me requires that I take a physical examination. I just can't bring myself to undress in front of a doctor. I also can't bear the thought of having a doctor put his hands on me.

I realize this is crazy, but I don't know what to do about it. My mother can't understand why I have not landed a job in all this time and I can't tell her. Please help me. —PETRIFIED

Dear Pet: I assume you mean MALE doctor, so for heaven's sake go to a female doctor and get your physical so you can go to work. Then, use some of your salary for psychiatric help. If you expect to lead a normal life you must conquer all your crippling inhibitions about your body.

U.P. Future Bright, Says Panax President

The Upper Peninsula is definitely on the move, it has a bright future, and Panax Corp. newspapers in Escanaba, Iron Mountain and Marquette are a part of this revitalization and join "in the great adventure that's coming," Panax Corp. President John McGoff said in Escanaba Tuesday.

McGoff spoke to a combined meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs at the House of Ludington. He was introduced by Jean Worth, Escanaba Daily Press editor.

The meeting was conducted by Isadore Stein, Rotary president, and Kiwanis Club greetings were given by Don Wertz, club president.

The story of the founding of Panax and its growth (now comprising four daily newspapers, one weekly, two print shops, three AM radio stations, one FM radio station and one television station) was described by McGoff, who said: "We're young and growing—not yet in full bloom."

Local Autonomy

Three of the largest newspapers in the U. P.—the Daily Press at Escanaba, the News at Iron Mountain and the Mining Journal at Marquette—were purchased by Panax from the Russell Publications a year ago.

"A cardinal Panax principle is the autonomy of individual facilities," McGoff said.

"Within a common framework, the management of each property is free to explore and experiment, excel or expire. The path ahead will be more exciting and challenging than the path behind. Panax progress depends on people. Panax is people—360 of them altogether, 163 of whom are an integral part of the U. P."

The Upper Peninsula "has a lot going for it," he continued.

"The iron ranges, the copper country, the quarrying lands, the farming areas, the forests, are assets, not liabilities. The tourist and resort potential is fantastic. The impetus given to education the past few years is most encouraging. And perhaps the industry and loyalty of the people are the most important factors of all."

Constructive Role

There are problems, of course, he added. But they are not insurmountable and they are being studied and solutions are being sought by many concerned people.

"These are exciting times. There is much to think about and do—together. We think your local newspaper might be able to lend a hand in a small but constructive way."

Newspaper business "is more than a business," he said.

"It always has been axiomatic that the success and excellence of our form of government, its ability to survive the crises of change is directly related to the degree and quality of public information and understanding."

News Coverage

"The Panax newspapers in the U. P. have no intention of becoming content to operate according to old formulas which have largely outlived their usefulness."

"It is a decided disservice to the reader of a newspaper to allow the merely unusual, sensational or shocking event to distract him from the far more significant and important kind of news and information."

"The Escanaba Daily Press is first and foremost a newspaper for Escanaba. It is a community paper. The Daily Press is your local newspaper. The same holds true for Iron Mountain and the News, and for Marquette and the Mining Journal."

"Together they speak to and for the best interests of the Upper Peninsula as a whole."

"Saying this, then, the assumption follows that your paper will shine in local news coverage. This has been and will be the interest and primary aim of the Daily Press."

"Panax recognizes the imperative task of the newspaper to report in depth on those matters most vital to the well-being and growth of the community," McGoff continued.

How It Serves

"It is important that a newspaper keep its readers informed on the issues of public education. Complete and factual reporting on township, municipal, county and state government activities is of great importance for a revitalization of responsible, effective, and efficient local government. And because this is not happening in our society at large, more and more authority is being centralized in Washington."

McGoff said the newspaper must be a community gadfly, an irritant as well as a supporter; a critic when the general welfare calls for criticism, and a booster when the occasion calls for it.

"Its columns should not for the most part contain soothing syrup, nor innocuous gossip and entertainment. Any paper that is worth its salt will be full of strong medicine, hard facts, and will have an abrasive as well as polishing effect on the reader's mind, emotions and ambitions."

"We are sure this is the kind of newspaper you want. The Escanaba Daily Press along with the Iron Mountain News and the Marquette Mining Journal will be responsible reporters, gathering information and news in the finest tradition of journalism, always with a view of furthering the growth, prosperity, and general well-being of their respective communities and the Upper Peninsula as a whole."

Florida Ends Democrat Rule

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Florida emerged today with the strongest two - party legislature in the once solidly Democratic Deep South, giving its new Republican governor strong veto control.

The voters Tuesday abandoned century-old political traditions and gave Republicans strength they have never known in the court-ordered election of Florida's first one-man, one-vote legislature.

Although only about one-third of the state's 2.5 million voters cast ballots, the electorate — with its first Republican governor in 94 years in office less than three months — gave the GOP a better than one-third minority in the legislative branch.

Republicans won 20 seats in the 48-member senate and 40 in the 119-member house.

A two-thirds vote is needed in the Florida Legislature to override a veto.

Not since Reconstruction has the GOP held such leverage in a government of a Deep South state.

Schnick Dies

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — Frederick F. Fisher, well-known musician and entertainer who was the leader for a number of years of a comic band, was found dead in his home Monday. As clarinetist Fred (Schnickelfritz) Fisher he led the comic band for a number of years and appeared in movies and film shorts.

Govt. Threatens Plumber Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department, charging racial discrimination, has threatened a crackdown on apprenticeship programs of some 200 unions — including the $1 million-a-year AFL-CIO Plumbers Union training project.

The specific threat against the Plumbers Union program — biggest in the nation with some 25,000 apprentices a year — came in a previously unpublicized memorandum from Assistant Secretary of Labor Stanley H. Ruttenberg.

He called for possible action to decertify the union's apprentices from federal projects in a memo to Administrator Hugh C. Murphy of the Labor Department's Bureau of Apprenticeship Training.

"We must move immediately to decertify apprenticeship programs where there has been no progress in filing proof of nondiscrimination," wrote Ruttenberg. He demanded "strong measures" to show Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz "that we have an affirmative, active compliance program."

Plumbers Union President Peter T. Schoemann accused federal officials of trying to take control of organized labor's apprenticeship programs. He ordered his local unions to disregard government compliance orders until checking with him.

Carrier Planes Hit North Hard

SAIGON (AP) — American carrier planes hurled three raids near the major port of Haiphong Tuesday in the second day of heavy strikes against North Vietnam.

The closest target to the Communists' chief port was a supply point in the Red River delta 12 miles above the city. All-weather jets from the 7th Fleet also hit two other barge and supply points close by.

Air Force and Navy pilots flew 124 missions against North Vietnam. With Monday's strikes, it was the heaviest 48-hour pounding in almost a month.

South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky paid tribute to the Navy fliers today with a flight to the nuclear- powered carrier Enterprise, where he watched strikes take off and decorated three score American fliers. Some had just returned from North Vietnam and some were about to take off.

Flying from bases in Thailand and South Vietnam and from the carriers Enterprise, Hancock and Kitty Hawk, U.S pilots raked supply lines from the Haiphong area south to the 17th Parallel Tuesday. The weather appeared to be breaking after months of fog and rain, but overcasts still prevented bomb damage assessment, and many raids were directed with radar.

Although the U.S. military command does not reveal the number of planes in each mission, the air armada over North Vietnam Tuesday numbered close to 400 warplanes.

New Attendance Areas Approved For City Schools

The Escanaba Area Board of Education Tuesday night established new elementary school attendance areas for use in Escanaba this fall.

The new areas were needed because of the expected completion of two new schools, the six-room addition to the John Lemmer school and planned discontinuance of the Jefferson School.

Districts approved were:

Webster Schhool — All of Escanaba north of the main Chicago & North Western Railroad tracks.

Washing ton School — Area between 3rd Ave., N., and Ludinton St.;

Southside School—Area south of 12th Ave., S.

Lemmer and Franklin—Area west of line on 14th St. from Ludington St. to 5th Ave., S., east on 5th Ave., S., to 10th., and then south on 10th St. to Lake Shore Dr. would be in Lemmer District; children east of that line would attend the new Franklin school.

Supt. Luther M. Barrett said that with the completion of the six-rom addition to the Lemmer School in August, plans call for the Jefferson School to be discontinued.

In other action, the Board approved tenure for 24 teachers in the system and continued probationary status for another 20; named Louis Diedrich to direct the summer reading program and Kenneth Myllyla to direct the pre-school readiness program; accepted a change order in theamount of $108 for the new Washington School to provide for installation of two bulletin boards in the library; granted a request by Mrs. Elnora Vader for a year's leave of absence if she receives an Experienced Teacher Fellowship, and approved continuance of an agreement with K.I. Sawyer Air Force Base allowing use of the Area high school as an emergency hospital in event of a military or natural disaster.

The Board also considered elements of the 1967-68 operating budget, but took no action. A tentative buget for submission to the tax allocation board will be adopted at the regular board meeting April 11.

Supt. Barrett was authorized to prepare specifications for classroom furniture for the new school buildings and to send hehm to prospective bidders.

Dzendzel Heads Time Reform

LANSING (AP) — Sen. Raymond Dzendzel, D - Detroit, a leading opponent of a recently-passed law allowing Michigan to stay on Eastern Standard Time, was elected chairman Tuesday of a group seeking a referendum on the issue.

Dzendzel led an unsuccessful attempt in the Senate to block the bill exempting Michigan from the Federal Uniform Time Act, which would have required the state to observe Daylight Saving Time six months of the year.

The Citizens Committee for Daylight Saving Time Referendum seeks to obtain enough signatures to set the law aside and force a vote on the matter.

States Fighting U.S. Pay Fixing

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Twenty-six states went to court today with arguments that a federal law threatens to end the federal-state system and could lead to federal control of police departments.

The case raises a question as old as the United States: Where does federal authority end and states' rights begin?

Maryland and the other states —their arguments so voluminous that a grocery cart was used to move the file—are attacking 1966 amendments to the Fair Labor Standards Act. The amendments brought some employes of states and political subdivisions under coverage of federal wage and hour provisions for the first time.

A three-judge federal panel began today a hearing on the constitutionality of the amendments and on a request by the states for an injunction to prohibit the federal government from enforcing their provisions.

The federal government has filed a motion for dismissal.

Atty. Gen. Francis B. Burch of Maryland initiated the suit against the law, which sets minimum wages for employes of schools, hospitals, nursing homes and institutions for the mentally or physically handicapped—public and private.

The law fixes their minimum hourly wage at $1.15 in the first year, $1.30 in the second year, $1.45 in the third and $1.60 in the fourth. Some 1.4 million public employes are affected.

The court action delayed the statute's date of enactment which had been Feb. 2, 1967.

"If hospitals and schools can be the subjects of regulation," Texas said in its complaint, "then the public health department, the police, the highway department, even the legislature would be subject to regulation at the whim of Congress."

Racial Balance Factor Approved For Boundaries

LANSING (AP) — Boards of education may consider racial balance as one factor in drawing up school boundaries, the Michigan Court of Appeals ruled today.

If the boundaries are not arbitrarily drawn, it added, students do not have a constitutional right to attend a school other than the one in the district where they live.

The court reversed a Genesee County Circuit Court decision in the case of Truel Mason vs. the Flint Board of Education.

The Flint board late in 1964 adopted new high school boundaries and said publicly that racial balance was among the criteria it was using in drawing the lines.

Mason, representing about 100 high school students, claimed the U.S. and Michigan constitutions, in their equal protection and antidiscrimination sections, outlawed any consideration of race in setting school boundaries.

Circuit Judge John W. Baker permanently enjoined the school board from considering racial factors. Baker was overruled by the appeals court.

Russia, Japan Lead Steel Gains

CLEVELAND (AP) — Russia and Japan made the largest production gains of any of the major steel producing countries last year, Steel Magazine reports.

The magazine said Russia, the second largest steel producer, poured 106.8 million tons in 1966 to better its record output of the previous year by 6.5 million tons.

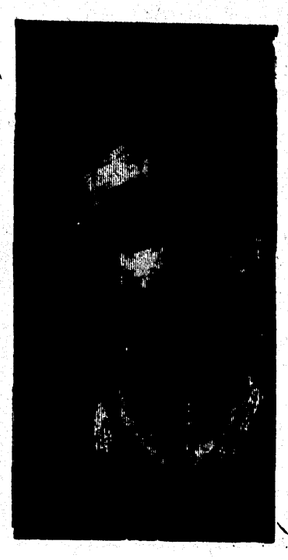

Japan, the world's third largest steel producer, had total production of 51.1 tons, an increase of 5.7 million tons over the record it set in 1965.

The United States, the world's No. 1 steelmaker, produced a record 134.1 million tons in 1966, a gain of 2.6 million tons over its 1965 output, US Steel reported.

Historic Park

JACKSON (AP)—With the aid of a $34,527 federal grant, the State of Michigan is acquiring 181 acres of land 18 miles south of Jackson for establishment of Cambridge State Historic Park. The park will include a stagecoach-stop tavern where Daniel Webster and James Fenimore Cooper were once guests.

Kingsford And Iron Mt. Change Time Day Apart

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP) — If you wake up at 8 o'clock Saturday morning in Iron Mountain and walk across the street to Kingsford an hour later—it still will be 8 a.m.

An April Fool's Day prank its not.

It will be a 24-hour case of confusion brought about by the city councils of the twin cities of Iron Mountain and Kingsford, separated only by Woodward Avenue.

Both cities are on Central Standard Time, and both are to switch to Eastern Standard Time in compliance with a ruling of the Michigan Legislature.

But the Iron Mountain council voted to switch clocks at 2 a.m. Saturday — and Kingsford's council voted to switch at 2 a.m. Sunday.

Train Lawmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan State University will receive a $58,730 federal grant to pilot a graduate fellowship program for 10 law enforcement officers, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., announced Tuesday.

Hart said the grant was approved by the attorney general and is part of a national program to start next school year in cooperation with two other universities.

Ryan Favored By Democrats

LANSING (AP) — Rep. William A. Ryan of Detroit was the likely choice of House Democrats today as they pick a new party leader.

Other announced candidates for the top House party post were Reps. Arthur Law of Pontiac, Albert Horrigan of Flint, Daniel Cooper of Oak Park and J. Bob Traxler of Bay City.

Only Horrigan, an eight-termer and last year's speaker pro tempore, was regarded as a serious challenger to Ryan's candidacy.

The former Democratic leader, Rep. Joseph Kowalski of Detroit, died March 18 after suffering a massive cerebral hemorrhage.

An unofficial nose-count late Tuesday showed 29 of the 54 Democratic House members — one more than a majority — leaning toward Ryan. Eleven supported Horrigan, five favored Law and four were expected to vote for Cooper.

Ryan, 48, a soft-spoken Marine Corps veteran of World War II and former United Auto Workers local president, is the House Democrats' caucus chairman and personnel officer. He began his sixth House term this year.

Engineers Boost Journalism Prize

The National Society of Professional Engineers has doubled the amount of its journalism award from $500 to $1000, and entries have nearly doubled those received in the initial year of the award, 1965. NSPE award is to encourage significant writing on engineering. Entries are now being accepted for NSPE's third annual award. Jerry Rush of the Arkansas Democrat, Little Rock, received the $1,000 check in 1966.

Assassination Set Off World Alert

William Manchster and "The Book"

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK (AP) — Fears of an international plot to overthrow the U. S. government prompted Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to alert every American military base around the world the minute he heard that President John F. Kennedy had been shot in Dallas, Tex., William Manchester says.

"By every readable signal the situation was very red," Manchester writes in his book, "The Death of a President."

The much-disputed book contains 350,000 words of text, plus diagrams, appendices and a list of sources. The price is $10.

McNamara "kept his head and made all the right moves" even before he learned that Kennedy was dead, Manchester says. The worldwide warning told American military commanders, "this is the time to be especially alert."

"Might Be War"

President Johnson is quoted in the book as saying "there might be war" if Americans became aroused by suspicions that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro had conspired to kill Kennedy.

It was the "wild rumors" about a conspiracy that brought the Warren Commission into existence, Manchester says. The commission, after a long investigation, concluded that Lee Harvey Oswald — and Oswald alone — assassinated Kennedy.

Johnson had difficulty persuading Chief Justice Earl Warren to head the inquiry, Manchester says, because Warren opposed "extracurricular activity" by Supreme Court justices.

Warren Pressured

Manchester quotes Warren as saying: "The President told me how serious the situation was. He said there had been wild rumors and there was the international situation to think of. He said he had just talked to Dean Rusk, (secretary of state) who was concerned. He said that if the public became aroused against Castro and Khrushchev there might be war."

Manchester agrees with the commission's finding. But he says its "real work" was done by the general counsel, J. Lee Rankin, and the 14 assistant counsels. As for the members of the commission, Manchester writes, "the lustrous names of the seven appointees were for public consumption."

Manchester also is critical of actions of Secret Service agents before the assassination and immediately after the first shot struck Kennedy.

Secret Service Criticized

He makes these points:

1. On the night before the tragedy, "nine agents of the White House detail were out on the town. They started with beer and mixed drinks at the Fort Worth Press Club."

2. "At various times, they were joined by three agents of the 12-to-8 shift — who were officially on duty, assigned to guard the President's bedroom door."

3. A jet airplane pilot is grounded if he fails tests that measure his reflexes. "However, presidential bodyguards were not required to take" these tests.

Detail Confused

4. When the first shot was fired, "most of the hunters in the motorcade identified the sound immediately as rifle fire, but the White House detail was confused."

5. Two agents were in the front seat of the presidential car. "They were in a position to take evasive action after the first shot, but for five terrible seconds, they were immobilized."

Manchester summarizes his indictment in the words, "The central fact was that the Secret Service had failed."

A publishers' note on the title page says, "Harper & Row wishes to make it clear that neither Mrs. John F. Kennedy nor Sen. Robert F. Kennedy has in any way approved or endorsed the material appearing in this book."

Revisions Demanded

This reflects a bitter controversy which ranged for months between Manchester and the Kennedys. Last December, Mrs. Kennedy called the manuscript "tastless and distorted" and brought suit to block publication. She demanded revisions and deletions. Three former aides to the senator said, after reading the manuscript, "We were talking about 144 changes."

Manchester replied that the reasons for demanding changes were "political" and constituted "an attempt to suppress vital facts."

Their acrimonious exchanges, erupting over a period of several months, received front-page reporting in newspapers from coast to coast. This, coupled with Look magazine's four-part serialization of the book, gave Manchester's story an unprecedented degree of advance publicity.

Big Advanced Sale

Perhaps as a result, booksellers report a large volume of advance orders.

Harper & Row said the first printing runs to 600,000 copies. There are indications that a second printing will appear almost immediately.

Six per cent of the net receipts on the first 100,000 sales will be retained by the publishers, they said.

An undisclosed part of the earnings accruing to both Manchester and the publisher has been earmarked for the Kennedy Library.

Literary agents estimate the book may earn around $3 million.

Called Insane

Manchester believes — but states as fact — that Oswald went insane on Nov. 21, 1963, the night before Kennedy was assassinated. The author says Oswald's reason crumbled as the result of a quarrel with his Russian wife, Marina, from whom he was semiestranged.

She had been living in Irving, a suburb of Dallas, in the home of Ruth Paine, a friend. Oswald lived in a Dallas rooming house. He visited his wife and children on weekends.

Manchester wrote that on the night of Nov. 21, Oswald appeared to be watching television in Mrs. Paine's home. "In fact," the author says, "he was going mad."

Sane To Police

Oswald appeared sane, however, to the police and other investigative officers who interviewed him after the assassination. The transcript of these interviews, published in the Warren Commission report, shows that Oswald told the same story to each of them. He answered certain questions but said he would not answer others until he could have an attorney with him. And he specified the attorney, "A New York lawyer whom he did not know" but who had defended some persons accused "of a conspiracy against the government."

Hoped For Conspiracy

Manchester says in his foreward he "felt entitled to record my opinions" and was "forming judgments."

But he does not pinpoint the passages in his book where fact leaves off and "opinion" or "judgment" begins.

He says that Mrs. Kennedy, contrary to McNamara and other federal officials, "hoped" a conspiracy had taken her husband's life. The book says, "for then there would be an air of inevitability about the tragedy; then she could persuade herself that if the plotters had missed on Elm Street they would have eventually succeeded elsewhere."

Manchester does not say whether Mrs. Kennedy told him this. He does not tell the reader whether it is fact or his judgment.

Goof

NEW YORK (AP) -"Women's Wear Daily" published Tuesday a review of William Manchester's "The Death of a President" although an April 7 release date had been fixed by the book's publishers, Harper & Row.

In an accompanying note the retail clothing trade organ said:

"The date was acceptable to Women's Wear Daily so long as the book did not earlier go on sale in normal commerce. On March 27, Kaufmann's department store in Pittsburgh began selling the book at $10.50 tax included in its book department.

"Kaufmann's advertised immediate sale of the book in the Pittsburgh Press Sunday, March 26.

"Women's Wear Daily purchased a copy of the Manchester book at retail and now feels itself free to publish its review."

A spokesman for Harper & Row said the books, by mistake, were delivered to Kaufmann's a week early. They were to have been delivered next Friday. The store refused the publishers' request to keep the books off the shelves until the scheduled date of publication, April 7.

Michigan Week Movie Planned

The premiere showing of a motion picture on the Michigan Legislature will be a highlight of Michigan Week this year. The 28-minute color film will be offered to television stations of the state as a public service feature for its initial public presentation on Government Day, Monday, May 22.

The film, financed by contributions of about 100 Michigan businesses, labor unions, associations and foundations, was announced by Dale I. Sellers, president of the Greater Michigan Foundation, sponsor of Michigan Week.

Upper Peninsula firms sponsoring the film include: Michigan Conference of Teamsters, Michigan State AFL - CIO Council, United Steelworkers, United Auto Workers, Copper Range Co., Upper Peninsula Power Co., Hanna Mining Co., Lake Shore, Inc., Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co.

The coal deposits of Wyoming could supply the United States for 300 years.

Detroit May Have To Shift Its Basic Fuel

DETROIT (AP) — The chief of Detroit's Air Pollution Control Bureau says the city's electric utilities may have to find new sources of power if federal standards for sulphurous gases are to be met.

Morton Sterling of the bureau said that levels of sulphur dioxide must be reduced 60 to 70 per cent to return Detroit's atmosphere to the limits of safety recently prescribed by the U.S. Public Health Service.

He said about four - fifths of the sulphur dioxide in the Detroit air is given off by the burning of coal.

The utilities — Detroit Edison and the Public Lighting Commission, — burn about half the total, Stegling said.

He suggested natural gas, light fuel oil or atomic energy as new sources of power.

STAMP DESIGN observing the Nebraska centennial was unveiled at Lincoln, Neb., recently with issuance of the stamp scheduled for July 29 in that city. The design is themed to two mainstays of the state's agricultural economy — cattle and corn.

Peace Corps' Salaries Good

WASHINGTON (AP) — The public may think of Peace Corpsmen mostly as low-paid, college-age idealists. But there is opportunity to serve — at pretty fair wages — for older men and women with management know-how.

Take Dr. Stephen Dachi, chairman of a department at the University of Kentucky's College of Dentistry. He'll be going to South America July 1 to help direct the Peace Corps program in Colombia.

Dr. Dachi is one of 70 persons — chosen from 5,500 applicants — who'll be replacing Peace Corps staff personnel overseas in the next six months at salaries up to $23,000 a year.

One of the reasons they're changing jobs is Margaret M. Conroy, an attractive 30-year-old former New Yorker who has been the Peace Corps' chief talent scout since Dec. 6.

"Things have really been hectic during these past few months," she said in an interview. "We've received 1,500 applications for jobs from people around the country. And we have about 4,000 applications from returning volunteers."

Miss Conroy, whose official title is director of the Peace Corps talent search, heads a staff of 11, including 4 interviewers.

Their job: Recruit people with the ability to administer Peace Corps programs.

Staff members serve as Foreign Service officers under a 30-month contract. Although a second 30-month tour is possible,

Staff members serve as Forhave career tenure as do civil service employes.

Salaries start at $7,500 and depend on the person and his experience, not necessarily the job.

Ex-Premier To Run In Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — One of South Vietnam's leading civilian politicians, Phan Khac Suu, announced his presidential candidacy today, setting the stage for a civilian-military contest in the Sept. 1 election.

Suu said his vice-presidential running mate would be another leading civilian, Dr. Phan Quang Dan.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu, leaders of South Vietnam's ruling military junta, both have presidential ambitions. The currently dominant military power bloc wants one of its members elected although under the new constitution he must take off his uniform to run.

Informants say an informal show of hands at a recent meeting of the Armed Forces Council indicated Thieu was the military's favorite.

Other civilian tickets are expected to be announced.

Suu, 62, was made chief of state in October 1964 when the military attempted to create a facade of civilian rule. He resigned after eight months of military coups and other intra-governmental strife.

Judging from past performance, Suu could not be expected to follow the military line if elected. A military coup ousting him would wipe out a year's effort to advance South Vietnam toward democratic government, an effort the United States has strongly backed.

Before Suu's announcement, political analysts in Saigon anticipated that a strong military-civilian ticket would emerge. Though this is still possible, the candidacy of Suu and Dan joins two of the best known civilian possibilities.

Burr's Show Is A Shoot-'em

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — After nine years of watching Raymond Burr playing smooth, shrewd unbeatable "Perry Mason," it was interesting Tuesday night to see him playing a testy, tough-talking heart-of-gold detective.

The vehicle in which he starred, a two-hour made-for-television feature called "Ironside," serves as the kick-off for an NBC series of the same name next season.

Although NBC called it a "major motion picture," the show was a routine whodunit that would have comfortably occupied an hour of television time. It was padded to the bursting point with all sorts of irrelevant odds and ends to stretch it through a second hour.

★ ★ ★

Steve Allen will return to his specialty — variety — in a summer season show occupying the spot now filled by CBS's Danny Kaye show. It is one of four hot weather variety shows planned by the network.

"The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour" will have a breather while the comedy team of Jack Burns and Avery Schreiber and the Doodletown Pipers fill in. Red Skelton's temporary replacement will be a British-made hour called "Spotlight." Jackie Gleason's will be "Away We Go," with comedian George Carlin, singer Buddy Greco and Buddy Rich and his orchestra.

NBC's summer replacements consist only of Vic Damone's stint for Dean Martin and "The Saint," an adventure series, replacing Andy Williams. On ABC, only "Peyton Place" will not consist of reruns.

Village Protests State Map Error

CHARLEVOIX (AP) — Michigan is missing 30 miles of its Water Wonderland.

The official, copyrighted 1967 state highway map fails to include an eight-mile-long stretch of Lake Charlevoix and the 22-mile-long Jordan River.

An ice fisherman first discovered the oversight when he checked the map. He took the matter to the East Jordan Village Council, which operates at the tip of where the lake is supposed to be.

"Bring back our lake," cried East Jordan Mayor Betty Robertson.

Charlevoix joined the protest when it was learned part of the lake had been left off the map.

The State Highway Department said the river and lake were left off the map inadvertently. The 30 missing miles will be restored next year, a spokesman said.

Hoffa Will Get Prison Respite

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — James R. Hoffa will receive a brief respite from federal prison, beginning May 8, to return to the city where he was convicted of jury tampering more than three years ago.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank W. Wilson, who handed the Teamsters Union president an eight-year sentence and a $10,000 fine in 1964, has ordered that Hoffa be returned here for an "evidentiary" hearing on his fourth motion for a new trial.

The hearing probably will last four or five days, a Hoffa lawyer said.

Iron pipe was first used for the transportation of natural gas in 1872.

Women's Activities

GUEST SPEAKER for the 18th annual convention banquet of the Marquette Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, Saturday, April 1, at Holy Name High School, Escanaba, will be Dale Francis, Executive Editor of Our Sunday Visitor. Francis, a graduate of Bluffton College in Ohio, had three years of graduate studies at the University of Notre Dame. He has been a newspaperman since 1931, working on various daily newspapers in positions from news reporting to editor. As a Catholic newspaperman he founded the North Carolina Catholic, the Lone Star Catholic, Operation Understanding of Our Sunday Visitor and the University of Notre Dame Press.

Some Timely Tips For Easier Cooking

When it comes to making food taste better or cutting corners on day-in, day-out jobs, a little sleight of hand in the kitchen pays big dividends.

Here are a few tricks with shortenings, oils, and lard that are well worth remembering.

- When making a cake, cream the flavoring, spice, or grated fruit peel with the shortening or lard. This dissolves the aromatic "flavor" and mixes it more evenly through the batter.
- For a richly golden crisp skin on roast turkey or chicken, rub it generously with melted shortening or oil before it goes into the oven.
- When cooking potatoes or onions on an outdoor grill, brush them with oil for extra flavor and an even brown jacket.
- If your family likes baked potatoeso with a soft skin, rub the potato with oil before baking. The oil also helps prevent cracking.
- Heat oil or other fat for deep frying slowly and use a thermometer to keep tabs on the temperature. Overheating causes smoking and a burned taste.
- In cooking macaroni, spaghetti, or other pasta products, add 1 tablespoon oil to each two quarts of cooking water to keep the macaroni from sticking and frothing over.
- Syrups, molasses, or catsup will slide right out of a measuring spoon or cup if you first coat the utensil with oil or shortening.
- Grease a cake pan, bread pan, baking dish, or griddle this way: Dip a pastry brush in oil or a crumpled piece of paper toweling in shortening and swish around the pan.
- Gelatin salads will unmold easily if you brush the mold with oil before adding the gelatin mixture.
- No need to fret about popcorn sticking or scorching if you use oil in the popper or frying pan.

Toss fresh bread crumbs with butter and seasonings and use as a stuffing for baked tomatoes. The pulp removed from the inside of the tomatoes may be added to the stuffing. If mushrooms are on hand, (sauteed fresh or drained canned) they make a savory addition to the dressing.

ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE BY Mr. and Mrs. Lester Carlson of 317 N. 17th St., Gladstone of the engagement of their daughter, Linda Marie, to Kenneth James Mahoney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mahoney of 1100 S. 19th St., Escanaba. Both young people are 1966 graduates of Holy Name High School. The bride-elect is employed as a secretary for Schneider, Larche and Haapala. Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise:

To cut a pattern from a sewn garment, flatten sections of the garment on paper and make pinpricks around the sections with a pin or needle.

Then use the perforations in the paper for a cutting guide.

Marie King

Dear Marie:

Your idea is great but I think I can go you one better.

For years I've been using aluminum foil!

Just lay the foil on a rug. Place the section of your garment over it and using your fingernail (if you have any that is), an orange stick, or a dried up ball point pen and press along each seam. Remove garment and you'll have a perfect pattern without ripping a seam.

I copy all my favorite garments this way.

Dear Heloise:

I carry extra bobby pins loose in my pocketbook and always had to "dig" for them

By accident, I dropped a small magnet in my pocketbook. When I found all the hairpins collected on it I was excited over what a time saver this little gem was.

100 Strokes A Night For Beautiful Hair

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Don't brush off brushing. Any woman who is concerned with her crowning glory will tell you that the hair's best friend is a good brush.

But the brush should be designed to fit your particular hair needs. In fact, it's a good idea to have two brushes.

A nylon bristle brush with rounded tips for stimulating the scalp can also double for styling.

However, nothing is finer than a natural bristle brush for cleaning the hair and for bringing out its natural highlights.

Think it's too much trouble? Not really. That famous 100 strokes a night can't take more than 10 minutes and the satisfying end result is certainly worth the time spent.

Don't ever worry about vigorous brushing ruining your new set. If your hair is cut and shaped properly and has the bounce it ought to have, your set will fall right into place.

If you find you're fighting your way through strands of hair, it means you have oversprayed. Be careful not to have a heavy finger on that aerosol button.

Brushing has a threefold purpose:

- To stimulate your scalp and increase circulation, so that both your scalp and your hair remain in good health.
- To remove surface dirt and dust.
- To distribute natural oils evenly for a pretty shine and glow that is so necessary for beautiful hair.

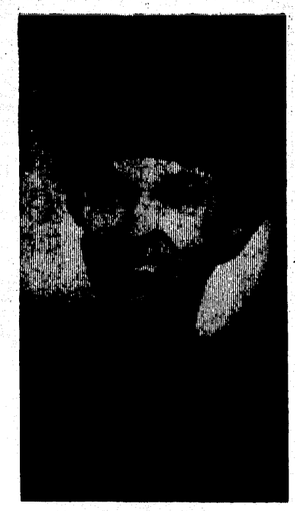

Brush up from the hair line and turn the brush with a twist of your wrist, brushing up and out.

Separate the hair, section by section, until your scalp feels awake. The idea is to brush from the roots out to the tips.

An interesting side note is a study made by a group of sociologists that found men often pick a wife with the same hair color as their own.

So you see, girls, gentlemen don't necessarily prefer blondes. That is, unless they, too, are blond.

It doesn't really matter what color your hair is as long as it's clean, well - brushed and full of lustrous highlights.

Camp Timber Trail Prepares For Season

MARQUETTE — At the recent meeting of the board of directors of Girl Scout Camp Timber Trail, Mrs. Max Reynolds, president, announced that Mrs. Virginia Bisberg, Harvey, Ill., has been engaged as camp director.

Because Mrs. Bisberg has had considerable experience directing similar camps, Mrs. Reynolds assured the board the approaching camp season should prove to be a very successful one.

She also announced that Mrs. Betty Schendel of Dolton, Ill., has been engaged as waterfront director.

The new Timber Trail registrar, Mrs. Walter Minor of Manistique announced that all brochures concerning the coming season were in the mail, and that she was in the final stages of assuming her new duties.

Since the time is close at hand for Girl Scouts to begin thinking about registrations, it was suggested that all girls be reminded that stamps can be purchased and saved toward a session at camp, and that these stamps are available from all leaders.

Mrs. Reynolds informed the group that a camp nurse is still needed. Since many women who do serve as nurses, also have daughters enrolled in the camp sessions, the board decided to make special camping rates available to these girls.

The site and development committee headed by Mrs. Richard North of Munising reported that the new units are installed and that carpenters are needed to help with the finishing of the cabins.

The board set the annual work bee for Saturday, May 20, when the new director will be there.

The board of directors of Camp Timber Trail will meet again on April 27.

Nicolo Marionettes In 'Hansel And Gretel'

One of the most appealing stories known to generations of children will be unfolded when the Nicolo Marionettes perform in Hansel and Gretel at Escanaba on Saturday, April 29. The program is sponsored by Escanaba Area PTA Council.

The enduring charm of Grimm's Folk tale comes colorfully alive with the antics of the winsome puppets enacting a story of action, magic, and suspense. The well-known melodies of the Humperdinck Opera are woven throughout this beloved tale of the two children lost in the forest.

The bright costumes and the three dimensional fairy-tale settings are inspired by Bavarian folk art. The audience will share the exciting adventures of Hansel and Gretel from the time they leave their humble cottage to take their perilous journey through the Black Forest to the moment when they conquer the witch who lives in a wonderous gingerbread house.

The Escanaba Area PTA Council is very proud to present this fine program for children of all ages. Contact Mrs. William Savard in charge of the event. Phone: 786-5872 for more information. Performances will be given at Junior High School on Saturday, April 29. The curtain will rise promptly at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m.

Trout Bobbing Produces Fish

Lake trout bobbing in the White Rock area off Munising is producing some fish, but recent rains and mild weather are creating hazardous ice conditions, the Conservation Department reports. Some whitefish are also being taken.

Two coho salmon were also taken recently in commercial herring nets between AuTrain Island and Laughing Fish Point. Hook and line fishing in the Great Lakes for this recently introduced specie becomes legal April 1 through Nov. 30 with size limit of 12 inches and possession limit of five fish, but not more than 10 pounds and one fish, applicable in these waters.

Some increase has recently been noted in commercial lifts of smelt which may be indicative of an increased movement of these fish into shoal waters. Spring spawning runs will probably develop sometime in April. It normally takes forty-degree water temperatures to get first spawning runs underway.

As the bay waters open up, some fairly good perch fishing can be expected in the Masonville and Garden areas.

Sucker runs also contribute considerably to spring fishing activity, however, the taking of this specie in the Upper Peninsula is not legal until May, says Robert W. Timmer, district law supervisor.

Man's body is about 65 per cent oxygen.

AIRMAN JAMES A NIKS, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew O. Nelson, 517 Wisconsin Ave., Gladstone, has been selected for technical training at Sheppard AFB, Tex., as a U. S. Air Force communications specialist. The airman recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. A 1965 graduate of Gladstone High School, Niks also attended Bay de Noc Community College.

Treat The Family to Meringue Cake

By The Associated Press

Every time we serve frozen sliced peaches we're reminded of just how delightful they are to use in desserts.

Teamed with other frozen fruits—raspberries and strawberries, for example—they also make a delectable and bounteous compote for a buffet supper.

Or just used to garnish vanilla-flavored pudding (made from a custard-type mix), they make that everyday dessert something extra good.

For a special treat, you might like to use the peaches with a meringue cake. Make up the whole cake when company comes. For just the family, you'll find this recipe is easy to divide in half. In this case you'll have one layer which you can cut in two and assemble as directed to make half-a-cake.

PEACH MERINGUE CAKE—Sliced peaches (from your frozen-food shelf) are sandwiched between layers of cake topped with meringue.

Peach Meringue Cake

2 cups sifted regular flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup (1 stick) butter or margarine
1¼ cups sugar
4 egg yolks
1 teaspoon vanilla
Grated rind of 1 lemon
1 cup milk
Meringue
½ cup thinly sliced blanched almonds
2 packages (each 12 ounces) frozen sliced peaches, defrosted

On wax paper, sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. In a mixing bowl cream butter and sugar; gradually beat in egg yolks, then vanilla and lemon rind. Stir in sifted flour mixture in 4 additions, alternately with milk, beginning and ending with flour. Turn into two 9-inch layer-cake pans whose bottoms and sides have been greased and floured. Allow batter to stand in pans while you quickly make the Meringue; spread Meringue over batter. Sprinkle with almonds. Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven until a cake tester inserted in the center comes out clean—35 to 40 minutes. Place cakes in pans on wire racks for 10 minutes to cool. With a small spatula, carefully loosen edges of cake from sides of pan and turn out on racks. Turn meringue side up and cool completely.

At serving time, place one cake layer, meringue side up, on serving plate. Cover with a layer of drained peach slices, reserving peach juice. Top with second cake layer, placing it meringue side up. Arrange remaining peach slices on top to form a pinwheel. Spoon peach juice over cake. Serve at once.

Note: To embellish this cake, you may assemble it this way. Place one layer, meringue side down, on serving plate. Spread with creamy custard filling and arrange a layer of drained peach slices over the filling. Top with second cake layer, placing it meringue side up. Garnish top with remaining drained peach slices. (Use the peach juice some other way.)

Meringue
(For Peach Meringue Cake)

4 egg whites
½ teaspoon vanilla
¾ cup sugar

Beat egg whites with vanilla until thoroughly foamy. Beat in the sugar, a very little at a time; continue to beat until meringue holds stiff, straight, glossy peaks when beater is slowly withdrawn. Use as directed in recipe for Peach Meringue Cake.

Charcoal cookery takes patience! Don't put any food over that bed of lighted charcoal until the charcoal has burned down to coals. In the daytime, the coals will look gray; at night they'll look red.

Former Illinois Athletes Ready To Answer Call

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Jim Valek and Harv Schmidt, a pair of former University of Illinois star athletes, are expected to answer the call of Alma mater Wednesday.

Valek and Schmidt will be at a press conference scheduled for Wednesday (11:30 a.m. EST) when an announcement will be made to fill the head football and basketball coaching posts.

Valek will succeed Pete Elliott as football coach and Schmidt will fill the basketball position held by Harry Combes.

Elliott, Combes and assistant basketball Coach Howie Braun recently resigned in the wake of the $21,000 slush fund scandal after the Big Ten ruled the three should be fired or Illinois face suspension from the conference.

Valek, 41, is a former Illinois grid captain who played end on the 1947 Rose Bowl championship team. Valek and Gene Vance, who officially becomes Illinois' athletic director April 1, coached at Lasalle-Peru Ill. High School in the mid-1950s.

Valek was football coach and Vance, a member of Illinois' famed Whiz Kids basketball team in the 1940s was basketball coach.

Valek went to Illinois as an assistant under Ray Elliott in 1958 and served one year under Elliott when Pete moved to Illinois from California in 1960.

Valek then shifted to Army under Dale Hall in 1961 and was retained at West Point when Paul Dietzel took the head job in 1961. When Deitzel went to South Carolina, Valek went along as offensive backfield coach.

Schmidt, 31, was captain and most valuable player on the 1957 Illinois basketball team. He has been serving as assistant to head coach Bob King at New Mexico for the last three years.

Schmidt, a product of Kankakee, Ill., started his coaching career at Davenport Iowa West and compiled a two-year record of 29-15 before shifting to Moline Ill. High School where he posted a 15-8 mark in the 1963-1964 campaign.

Rules Makers Outlaw Dunk Shot

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The National Basketball Committee has come up with a defense for the dunk shot—a rule prohibiting its use in college or high school games.

The rule makers outlawed the dunk shot at the closing session of their meeting Tuesday and also strengthened a rule already on the books to prohibit stalling tactics.

Although the dunk shot is a favorite among fans, players and some coaches, one of the rule makers believes the long-range response will be favorable.

"This has been a dramatic activity," said Clifford Fagan, secretary of the national policy-making group for amateur basketball in the United States and Canada.

"There might be some objection to prohibiting the dunk shot at first, but when they think about it and understand, I think everyone will feel that the change is good for the game," Fagan said.

Fagan said dunking the ball meant holding the ball above the basket and either dropping it or stuffing it through the net. He said the penalty for dunking will be loss of possession.

Fagan said the rule against dunking had no reference to any player but the new rule is certain to affect the style of 7-foot-1⅛ Lew Alcindor, who led UCLA to the NCAA national championship with his dunk shots.

UCLA Coach John Wooden said he was surprised and "a little disappointed" at the new rule.

"I am very much surprised, basically, because there has been no experimentation in this field," Wooden said. "Almost always the committee recommends a year or even two years of experimentation before a rule is changed."

Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp, who doesn't allow his players to use the dunk shot, was pleased with the new rule.

"I think it's a good rule," Rupp said. "I knew it was coming because there's been too much reaction to this show-off stuff. I'm glad to see them do something about this thing. It doesn't belong in basketball."

Fagan said there had been a rule to prevent stalling and a lack of action for about 10 years but the new ruling strengthened it.

Under the old rule, the team behind had the responsibility of forcing the action. If an offensive team did not advance forward with the ball after 30 seconds, it was given a warning and if no action resulted after another 5 seconds, a technical foul was called.

The only change in the new ruling is that the team will be warned after only 10 seconds.

Jack Finn Speaker At Coaching Clinic

Jack Finn, Michigan High School Football Coach of the Year, will be a speaker at the fourth annual Escanaba Football Coaches Clinic at the Terrace Motel Friday night and Saturday, March 31-April 1.

Finn, former star athlete at Escanaba High School, guided his Battle Creek Central team to the Michigan Class A championship last fall.

Finn has compiled a fabulous coaching record at the Battle Creek school. His teams have won their last 20 straight games and have won 40 of their last 45 starts.

In his 17 year coaching career in Michigan high schools, Finn has compiled a record of 104 victories against 40 defeats and two ties.

The former Michigan State gridder graduated from Escanaba High School in 1946 as the outstanding athlete-scholar of that year.

Finn will speak on the Battle Creek offense, incorporating his ideas on utilizing available backfield personnel and will outline the blocking rules of his "tight line" offense.

Rounding out the speaking staff at the clinic will be Burt Gustafson, member of the University of Wyoming football coaching staff; Frank Novak, backfield coach at Northern Michigan University; Al Sandona, line coach at Michigan Tech, and Bob Young, Michigan Tech's full time athletic trainer.

The clinic will draw over 100 high school and college coaches from throughout the Upper Peninsula, lower Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The program opens Friday night with Novak the first speaker at 7:30 and Sandona closing the clinic at 8:30. Saturday's schedule begins at 9:30 a. m. and runs through the final 1:30 session in which Gustafson will discuss Wyoming's Four-Deep Offense.

Co-directors of the tournament are Jerry Cvengros and Bob Dufour.

Army Checking Gogolak Injury

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP) — Pete Gogolak, place-kicking star of the New York Giants, shrugged off a thought more painful than his back injury as he lay stretched out in an Army hospital bed.

"I don't want to think about being washed up in football," he said. "My main concern is getting well and getting healthy."

Gogolak, 24, was injured two weeks ago in a fall down six steps in a barracks for recruits at this sprawling Army post. He was inducted in January.

Col. Lawrence S. Albrecht, hospital administrator, said Gogolak had been examined on six occasions at the orthopedic clinic and a number of times at a field dispensary for complaints about back trouble before the accident.

"We do not feel that this particular fall has caused any exaggeration or aggravation of his back problem," Albrecht said.

"He's not happy about being in the hospital and I'm not sure what his feelings are about being in the Army," the Colonel said.

Gogolak was drafted in January after the government relaxed physical requirements for Army duty. He failed a military physical examination last year because of a spinal defect.

Clad in a blue hospital gown, Gogolak struggled in apparent pain as he tried to sit up in his bed. He couldn't recall exactly how he managed to fall.

Hull Injured In Wing Tilt

CHICAGO (AP) — Bobby Hull's run at Bobby Hull's record of 54 goals in one season probably has ended.

Chicago's Golden Jet was one of several victims in Tuesday night's "mean nothing" game against the Detroit Red Wings which the National Hockey League champion Black Hawks won with ease, 7-2.

But it was a costly victory. Defenseman Matt Ravlich was lost for the rest of the season because of a fractured left leg in the third period.

Hull, who was responsible for a 51-minute delay in the game when one of his blistering slapshots shattered the "unbreakable" glass behind the nets, had to leave the ice in the third period because of an injured left knee.

Doug Mohns reinjured his back in the rough-tough contest after which the Hawks kept mumbling to a man "what are they trying to prove?"

Hull, who scored a record 54 goals last season and has 52 this time around, might not see action in the final three games this week at Boston Thursday, at Montreal Saturday and at New York Sunday.

"I don't think it's too serious," said Coach Billy Reay "but I just might not use him the rest of the week. Why should I? We need him for the playoffs."

Meanwhile, the torrid race for second place resumes Wednesday night when Toronto and Montreal, tied for the runnerup spot with 71 points each, clash in Montreal and New York, a step behind with 70 points, is home against Detroit.

Celtics Win Cage Series

NEW YORK (AP) — Fred Crawford is one of the losers, but he thinks like a winner.

Crawford, a New York Knickerbocker rookie, scored 26 points Tuesday night and played a fine floor game, but he readily admitted afterwards his jump shot is not up to National Basketball Association standards.

"I've got to work on it," he said.

How?

"I'm going over to the Boston dressing room and talk to Sam Jones."

Now there was a winning idea.

Sam jumped all over Madison Square Garden Tuesday night and it seemed just about everytime he hit the floor the Celtics had two more points. As a result, the Knicks were out of the NBA playoffs.

The final score was Boston 118, New York 109, with 51 of the Celtics' points — 38 from the field on 19 of 30 attempts and 13 of 17 free throws - made by jumping Jones.

The victory was the third against one loss for the Celtics in the best- of-5 Eastern Division semifinal series and it moved the defending champions into the best-of-7 final against division-winning Philadelphia beginning Friday.

There is no action tonight. Western Division champion San Francisco hosts St. Louis Thursday in the opening of their best-of-7 set.

Smith Selects Four Starters

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Pitching is the name of the game in baseball and the Tigers could come through with one of the best staffs in the American League.

"I'm pretty well satisfied with the pitching, overall," said Manager Mayo Smith. At the halfway point, Detroit's pitchers had a team earned run average of 3.98.

Smith said that apparently his front four pitchers are going to be Denny McLain, Earl Wilson, Mickey Lolich and Joe Sparma.

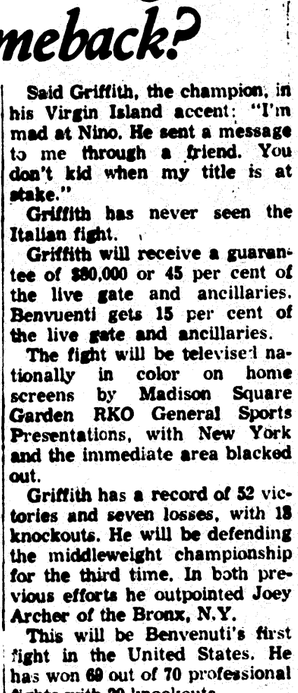

Others who may crack the starting lineup are Dave Wickersham and Bill Monbouquette.

"McLain and Wilson should be at least as good as they were last year," said Smith. "I really expect them to be better.

McLain had a 20-14 record last year and Wilson was 13-6 with the Tigers and 5-5 with Boston before the trade.

"I think Lolich has looked real good," said Smith. Lolich had a 14-14 record and Smith expects a big improvement from the lefthander.

"Joe Sparma is much improved over last year. He was hurt some last year, but this year he could be a real big big man for us," Smith said. Sparma was only 2-7 last year and had a 3.26 ERA.

Escanaba Coach Named To State Athletic Board

Appointment of Jack Magnuson, Escanaba High School golf coach and faculty member, to the State Athletic Board of Control was announced today by Gov. George Romney.

Magnuson, 41, will succeed State Rep. Charles Varnum, R-Manistique, who resigned after his election to the Legislature.

A native of Marinette, Magnuson is a graduate of Wisconsin State University of Whitewater and has been Eskymo golf coach since 1949.

Magnuson has turned out a steady stream of links champions in his coaching career. His Escanaba teams have won nine Upper Peninsula championships in 17 years and at one time put together a string of five straight U. P. tourney titles. He also handled the junior golf program at the Highland Golf Club for a number of years.

Magnuson will serve as the Upper Peninsula representative on the state board which governs amateur and professional boxing and wrestling in Michigan.

Chairman of the Board of Control is Chuck Davey of Detroit, former Michigan State University collegiate boxing great and later an outstanding professional welterweight.

Machen To Hang Up Boxing Togs

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Heavyweight Eddie Machen hung up his gloves for good after losing a 12-rounder Tuesday night to young California champion Henry Clark in the same ring where Machen began his pro career in 1955.

"I've gone to the end of the line and this is a good time to get out," said the 34-year-old Machen who won high ranking among heavyweights but never got to the top.

After knocking out Raul Flores in the same Sacramento Memorial Auditorium on March 22, 1955, he put together 23 more straight wins, most of them knockouts, before losing to Zora Foley in San Francisco on April 9, 1958.

Ranked No. 4 in 1964, Machen met Floyd Patterson at Stockholm July 5 of that year in a make-or-break bout for both and lost the decision. It was billed as a qualification to determine the challenger of Cassius Clay.

The Atlanta Braves have signed former catcher Paul Richards to a contract that runs through 1969. He is listed as a scout, coach and executive adviser.

Clay Contends Race Prejudice In Draft Fight

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay's fight to stay out of military service returned to Louisville today for a round in U. S. District Court.

A hearing was set to determine whether a three-judge board should be set up to hear the champion's contention that he was the victim of racial discrimination.

Clay filed suit here saying there was an imbalance of Negroes on the Louisville and other Kentucky draft boards.

The 6th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at Cincinnati rejected Clay's bid Tuesday for a court order to keep him from being inducted into the Army in April.

A three-judge court turned down the champion's request because of today's hearing at Louisville.

Jay Involved In First Beanball Incident Of Exhibition Campaign

By The Associated Press

Free agent Joey Jay hasn't drawn a pay check yet from the Philadelphia Phillies and that makes things somewhat difficult for Warren Giles, president of the National League.

Jay, in the Phillie camp on a look-see, was involved in a beanball incident in Tuesday's 9-7 loss to the New York Mets. He drew a warning from umpire Tom Gorman and that ordinarily calls for an automatic $50 fine.

But if a player isn't under contract, how can he be fined.?

"That does present a problem," admitted Giles, who saw Jay fire two pitches behind Bob Shaw in the second inning after Shaw had bounced one off Clay Dalrymple's helmet an inning earlier. "I'll have to take that into consideration."

Not only isn't Jay under contract, but the way he's been pitching this spring, he's not likely to be offered one either. He's worked 15 innings in four games and allowed 21 earned runs as well six home runs.

Jay gave up six runs on eight hits in five innings against the Mets and at this stage of training, a performance like that could seal a man's fate. And so, maybe Jay got a freebie in the duster war Tuesday.

In other games, St. Louis dropped Los Angeles 3-1, Houston downed Pittsburgh 4-2, Kansas City edged the New York Yankees 5-4, San Francisco defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-1, Washington whipped Baltimore 5-2 and California stopped Cleveland 3-1.

Games between Atlanta and Detroit at Lakeland, Fla., Cincinnati and Minnesota at Orlando, Fla., and the Chicago White Sox and Boston at Winter Haven, Fla., were rained out.

The Mets pushed across two runs to win in the 10th inning against Ruben Gomez, who is attempting a comeback with the Phillies. Dick Groat had five straight hits for Philadelphia and Ken Boyer homered for New York.

Bob Gibson worked seven innings for the Cardinals as St. Louis beat Los Angeles. Gibson retired only one of the first six batters he faced, but allowed just two hits over his final six innings. Orlando Cepeda had three hits including a homer against the Dodgers, who dropped their sixth straight game against National League opposition.

Houston rocked Dennis Ribant for three runs in the sixth inning, breaking a 1-1 tie against the Pirates. Rusty Staub's triple triggered the winning rally.

Jim Gosger drove in three runs with a homer and a single in Kansas City's victory over the Yankees. Rookie Bill Robinson homered and drove in all four New York runs.

Mike McCormick worked seven strong innings and Willie McCovey drove in three runs for the Giants against the Cubs. Lindy McDaniel pitched the last two innings and lowered his spring earned run average for seven appearances ta 0.75.

Doug Camilli drove in three runs with a single and double and Jim King homered in Washington's victory over Baltimore. Paul Blair homered for the Orioles.

Jay Johnstone's bases-loaded single helped California whip Cleveland. The hit raised Johnstone's spring average to .486.

Is Boxing Making Garden Comeback?

NEW YORK (AP) — Is boxing staging a comeback at Madison Square Garden?

It begins to look that way.

The Cassius Clay-Zora Folley heavyweight championship fight drew 13,780 spectators who paid a record $244,471 a week ago today.

On Friday Curtis Cokes, the world welterweight champion, and Gypsy Joe Harris meet in a nontitle fight and although the top price is only $8 the gate should exceed $20,000.

And now comes a 15-round, world middleweight championship between Emile Griffith and Nino Benvenuti of Italy April 17 and Managing Director Harry Markson is looking for better than $100,000 with a $20 top.

Said Benvenuti, the challenger, through a translater: "I'd like to make up for that defeat by Ki-Kim Soo in Korea last year. I feel I won that fight."

It was his only professional defeat and the world junior middleweight crown was at stake.

Said Griffith, the champion, in his Virgin Island accent: "I'm mad at Nino. He sent a message to me through a friend. You don't kid when my title is at stake."

Griffith has never seen the Italian fight.

Griffith will receive a guarantee of $80,000 or 45 per cent of the live gate and ancillaries. Benvuenti gets 15 per cent of the live gate and ancillaries.

The fight will be televised nationally in color on home screens by Madison Square Garden RKO General Sports Presentations, with New York and the immediate area blacked out.

Griffith has a record of 52 victories and seven losses, with 18 knockouts. He will be defending the middleweight championship for the third time. In both previous efforts he outpointed Joey Archer of the Bronx, N.Y.

This will be Benvenuti's first fight in the United States. He has won 69 out of 70 professional fights with 29 knockouts.

Tire Studs May Add Safety By Nicking Pavement

LAFAYETTE, Ind., (AP) — Snow tires studded with steel spikes, legalized by the 1967 Indiana General Assembly for winter months, may pay an unexpected dividend in addition to reducing skidding on ice.

Prof. Harold L. Michael, associate director of Purdue University's joint highway research project, said today that "nicking" of bare highway surfaces by the studs "may well provide an unexpected safety dividend."

He explained:

"It doesn't take long for the polishing effect of all-rubber tires to make pavements dangerously smooth and slick, especially in wet weather. Whatever shallow nicks result from the use of studded snow tires will probably improve the skid resistance of older pavements by roughening their highly polished surfaces."

A woman's body.

Architecturally, quite interesting. To a man. But not to the woman who owns one. Most women tend to ignore their own bodies.

Do you? Do you check your body, particularly your breasts, every month, for any lump or thickening? You should. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere could be a warning signal of cancer. And cancer is easier to cure when it's detected early.

Sophia Loren knows the seven warning signals of cancer. So should you:

1. Unusual bleeding or discharge. 2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere. 3. A sore that does not heal. 4. Change in bowel or bladder habits. 5. Hoarseness or cough. 6. Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing. 7. Change in a wart or mole.

If a signal lasts longer than two weeks, see your doctor without delay.

It makes sense to know the 7 warning signals of cancer.

Faculty Salaries Increased $500 At Bay College

A $500 across the board increase in the salary schedule for teaching faculty members of Bay de Noc Community College was approved Tuesday night by the College Board of Trustees.

The action raises the minimum starting salary for instructor's with less than a bachelor's degree and no experience to $4,500.

Maximum salary allowed on the schedule for a teacher with two Master's degrees or doctoral degree candidacy status would be $11,500.

Vote by the Board was unanimous and came after discussions with the faculty Professional Affairs Committee during recent months.

Place On Scale

In addition, the Board approved placement of all teachers on their proper step in the salary scale. Because of a lack of funds a year ago, members of the faculty had agreed to work at lower salaries than merited by their qualifications to allow the Board of Trustees to balance the budget.

The $500 boost in salaries will add $11,000 to the college payroll next year. There are 22 full - time members of the teaching faculty.

Dr. Richard Rinehart, president of the college, said that the additional money for faculty members was needed to keep Bay de Noc in a competitive position with other community colleges in Michigan. He said that despite the increase Bay de Noc still rates below the state average.

Schedule Listed

In related matters, the Board approved placing Doctoral degree candidates who have completed all work except their disertation on the fifth classification in the salary schedule, an advancement of one grade. A special classification will be established for teachers who hold doctor's degrees.

The college faculty salary schedule has five grades for teachers, each providing annual increments through 12 years. Previous minimum and maximum salaries allowable under the schedule were $4,000 and $11,000 respectively.

Minimum and maximum limits of the new schedule:

Class A (less than bachelor's degree): $4,500 to $7,500;

Class B (bachelor's degree): $5,200 to $8,200;

Class C (master's degree): $5,900 to $10,100;

Class D (master's degree plus 30 prior-approved credits in a teaching discipline): $6,600 to $10,700;

Class E (double master's or Ph. D candidacy approved by administration): $7,300 to $11,500.

Lettermen Gain $616 In Gifts

The sale of the Easter lillies by the young men of the three high schools is an annual service that helps finance programs of assistance to crippled and handicapped children of Delta County.

At Gladstone the High School athletes collected a total of $185 for the fund. They were supervised by Don Pfotenhauer.

The contributions in Escanaba were received by lettermen of Holy Name and Escanaba High in a combined effort, with the cooperation of Tom O'Neill, Holy Name varsity football coach, and Harold Johnson, Escanaba High assistant principal. Their total was $431.

LANSING — Gov. Romney appeared unworried today about progress of his income tax effort in the Legislature despite its confused status in the Senate. "Before we get through I believe there will be support for a tax reform program that will avoid a cutback in public services to the level of existing revenues," said Romney.

Queen Asked To Ban Rites

LONDON (AP) — Buckingham palace refused to comment today on a petition from about 30 members of St. James's Anglican church at Stoke-on-Trent asking Queen Elizabeth II to withhold permission for her cousin to remarry after his wife divorces him for adultery.

The divorce suit against the Earl of Harewood, the queen's 44-year-old first cousin, is to be heard next week. The earl has announced he hopes to marry the co-respondent, Patricia Tuckwell, who has had a son by him.

Under Britain's royal marriages act of 1771, Lord Harewood, 18th in line of succession to the throne, is theoretically required to ask the queen's permission to marry. The petitioners asked her, as titular head of the church of England, to deny permission to Harewood because the church does not recognize divorce.

Cutters Poke At Lake Ice

Icebreaking operations are stirring — but slowly — at important channels on the Upper Great Lakes, the Coast Guard reports.

The Straits of Mackinac and the St. Marys River, strategic passages between lakes, are closed with heavy ice.

The cutter Mackinac, working in the St. Marys River Round Island Passage, recommended that plans for transit be delayed until there is radical improvement. The ice is deteriorating slowly.

At the Straits the ice is solid from Poes Reef westward into Lake Michigan.

In Green Bay the cutter Mesquite is pushing from Sturgeon Bay south toward the City of Green Bay, according to the most recent ice conditions report.

At Escanaba ice continues up to 24 inches thick although there is some water on the ice. The Coast Guard has indicated it may have a cutter here by about April 1—but there is the possibility this will be delayed unless shipping interests want it opened that early.

In Lake Superior an icebreaker is beginning operations in the Duluth area in anticipation of the start of ore traffic. Ice there is 18 inches in the harbor.

Despite recent warmer weather, there seems to be no push on the part of shipping to get the season started early this spring.

1-Man, 1-Vote U.S. Convention Lacks 2 States

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alaska and Iowa appear the states most likely to next petition for a U.S. constitutional convention aimed at overturning the Supreme Court's one man-one vote ruling.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., the leading congressional critic of the court's ruling that each house of a state legislature must be apportioned by population, contends that if two more states petition for a convention, Congress must call one.

He is ready to offer the motion.

Not Certain

By his count, 32 states already have petitioned. But other congressmen dispute Dirksen's count because the states' documents vary. Article V of the Constitution says Congress shall call a convention on application from the legislatures of two-thirds of the states, or 34 of the present 50.

A petition from Alaska or Iowa is no sure thing.

In each, the House has approved a petition but the Senate has not acted. Observers in each state capital rate the possibility of favorable Senate action no better than 50-50.

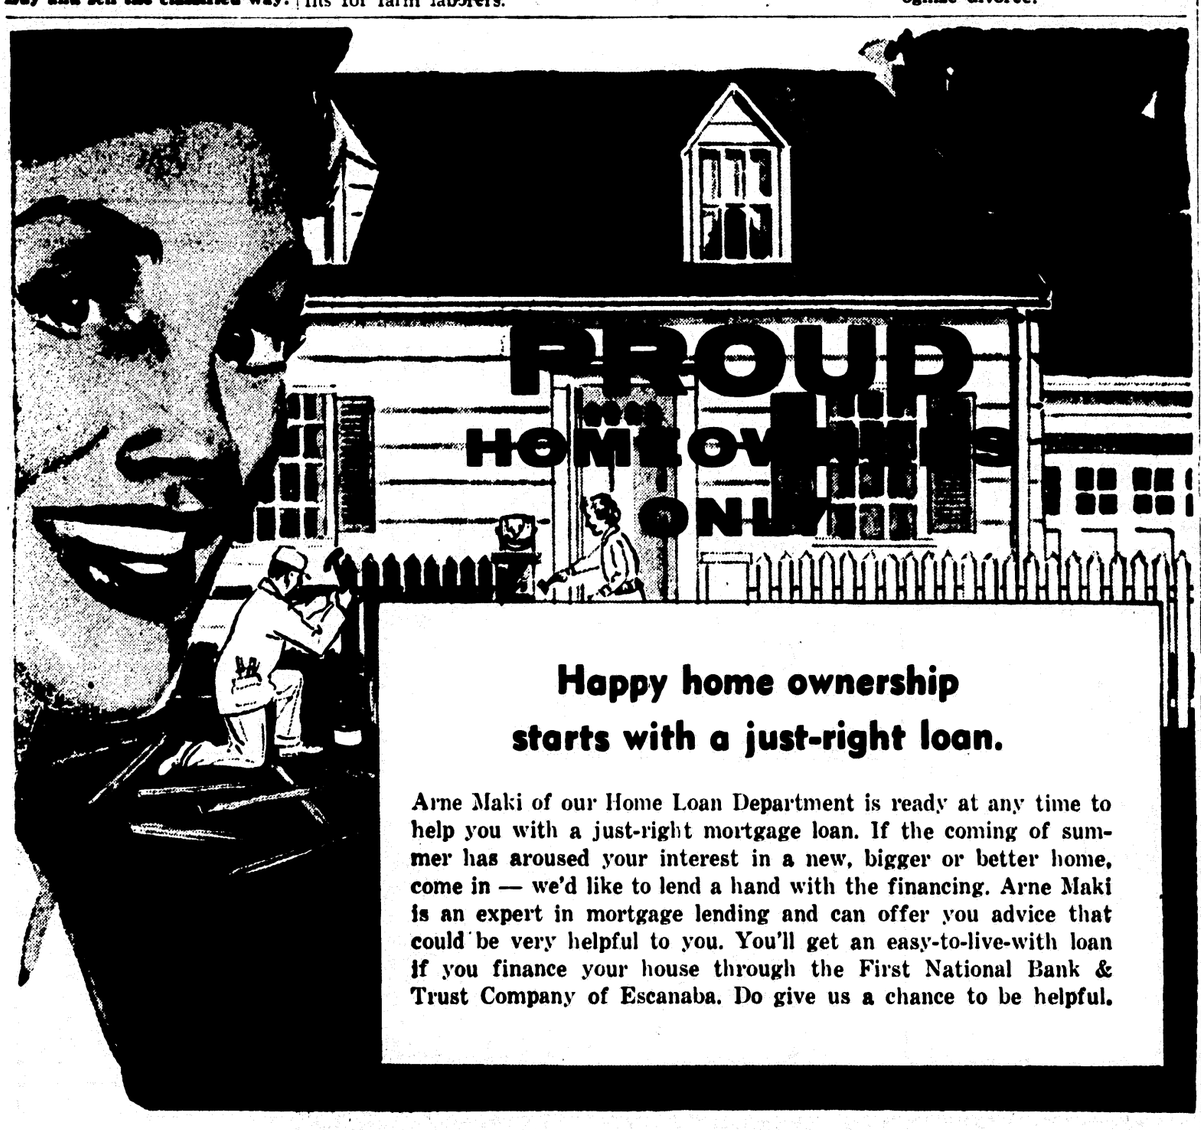

An Associated Press survey indicates the issue is alive in four other states — Michigan, New York, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

Schweigert Bill

State Sen. Thomas Schweigert, a Republican, introduced a petition resolution in Michigan Friday. Gov. George Romney has taken no position on it. But Romney helped write a provision of the 1963 Michigan constitution which required area to be a factor in establishing state Senate districts.

That provision was later thrown out in court and the Michigan Legislature was reapportioned on a very strict one man-one vote basis. Democrats, who led the fight for one man-one vote, won overwhelming control in 1964 but Republicans have now narrowly recaptured the legislature. The outlook is uncertain, however, for Senator Schweigert's proposal.
